WE NOMINATE

Carlos Heard Baker, one of the gifted and versatile men of letters on the American scene and now well into his fourth decade as a dedicated Princetonian, whose newly published "Ernest Hemingway: A Life Story" must be ranked among the compelling literary biographies of the 1960's. Almost without exception, wherever books are reviewed, either in this country or overseas, the Baker volume — some seven years in preparation—has been acclaimed and is considered "the first solid, cohesive and convincingly authentic account of a lifetime most often presented in the past in fragments by partisan observers."

It was in November, 1961, some six months after Hemingway had killed himself with a shotgun and nine years after Baker had published the first full-length study of Hemingway entitled "Hemingway, The Writer as Artist," that Baker was named official biographer by Hemingway's widow and the publishing house of Charles Scribner's Sons. Between then and the time the biography was designated the April Selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club, the 59-year old Baker had interviewed 250 of the writer's friends and analyzed more than 5,500 letters of the enigmatic man with whom he had corresponded for 10 years but had never met.

Probably the most convincing analysis of Baker's master-work emanated from his publisher, a firm closely associated with the Princeton Community for almost a century. It "was a stroke of rare fortune — and a major literary event — that the first writer to accept the full challenge of separating Hemingway, the man and the artist, from the myths about him was someone gifted not only with the patience and judgment of a professional scholar but also with the finesse and insight of an experienced novelist. . . . Brilliantly conveying the immense gusto of Hemingway's life, the story spans six full decades."

A native of Biddeford, Maine, and a member of the Class of 1932 at Dartmouth, where he won scholastic honors and participated in a variety of activities ranging from the presidency of his fraternity to the managership of the hockey team, Baker is a prolific and tireless, easy writer. His output includes dozens of essays and reviews and runs the gamut from two successful novels to a study of all of Shelley's chief poems and a moving sonnet sequence, "On Getting Back to Airplane Spotting After Ten Years." The last-named was named the winner of the first Emily Clark Balch Award in 1956.

From his years in Hanover he moved on to Harvard for his M.A. and entered the teaching profession. Before concentrating on the college level, this former member of what was once the Borough's Board of Education spent three years in secondary schools — one in Maine and two in Buffalo, N. Y. He earned his doctorate at Princeton in 1940, three years after he had joined the Department of English, and was promoted to the rank of professor in 1951. The recipient of an honorary degree from Dartmouth in 1957, Baker in 1954 was advanced to the post of Woodrow Wilson Professor of Literature, a chair which commemorates President Wilson's "mastery of spoken and written English."

For tackling Hemingway's life, one of the "most formidable jobs ever undertaken by a literary scholar"; for his achievements as teacher, scholar and creative writer; for bringing into sharp, understandable focus some of the unusual literary developments of our time; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

END OF ERA: The 45-year old Princeton Inn, which has been a part of the Princeton community since 1924, will be converted into a residence, dining and social facility by the fall of 1970 to accelerate Princeton University's plans to become coeducational. As the major stockholder, the University will spend $1.5 million to achieve the conversion.

PRINCETON INN TAKEN For Women's Dormitory. "The Princeton Inn is a convenience but is hardly an essential in Princeton life today."

President Robert F. Goheen made this observation in his statement explaining Princeton University's decision to take over the Princeton Inn as the University's first dormitory for women undergraduates.

And yet, when the Princeton community learned this week that the Inn would soon be gone, it suddenly did become an essential in Princeton life. The actual take-over date has not been set, but it will probably be in the late spring of next year.

University spokesmen said with perfectly straight faces that 70% of the Inn's business originates with people outside Princeton anyway, as though a hotel's primary purpose were not to serve travelers.

But for the town, it means the loss of a pleasant public place to drink and dine or have a dance or a wedding reception, in a community which is already short on these amenities.

Taxes Lost. Chiefly, however, it means a tax loss. The Princeton Inn straddles the municipal line and Borough and Township together will lose $65,622 a year in taxes. Building and land are worth about $2 million.

The University has promised to phase out this tax withdrawal over a considerable period of time to soften the impact on the tax rolls.

Although the Township loses the most in dollars, the Borough suffers most because it is so tightly built-up that it cannot squeeze in additional rateables to make up the difference.

The Township, on the other hand, is getting ready to assess the University's new housing on South Harrison, and expects a nice little tax check from that project. Also, a new car-wash and the Opinion Research addition help to numb the new loss.

The Township will lose $37,532.32 in Princeton Inn taxes. That figure includes $6,284 in local purpose taxes, $21,855 assigned to the schools and $9,383 to the county. (The remainder is miscellaneous).

The Borough loses $28,089.90. Of this, $6,290 is for local purposes, $12,457 for schools, $9,045 for the county and the rest, miscellaneous.

. . . and More. Laurence B. Patterson, Borough treasurer, points to a continuing loss of taxes over the past few years as the University has taken over various properties.

Mr. Patterson lists the loss of three eating clubs — Key and Seal, Court and Terrace, for a tax loss of about $5,000 each and the acquisition by the University of some houses on Nassau Street between Washington Road and Charlton, for another $5,000 or a total of $20,000 in a period of about five years. He estimates another $30,000 tax loss if the period is extended to ten years.

When Mrs. Edgar Palmer died last year, she bequeathed her home at One Bayard Lane to the University, for "college purposes." It is worth $4,242 in taxes, and the Borough hopes very much indeed that the University will use the mansion in such a way that it can still be taxed.

The University, through its taxable housing and such facilities as Palmer Stadium, is the biggest taxpayer in both Borough and Township and in addition, pays the Borough $15,000 as a "contribution." It also shares sewer-incinerator expenses with both municipalities.

History. The Princeton Inn was built in 1924, not by the University, according to the Inn's manager, Samuel E. Stewart, but by a corporation of Princeton alumni headed by Edgar Palmer.

The corporation originally had 450 stockholders, but now there are fewer than 100, Mr. Stewart says. Around 1947, the University acquired a majority of the stock and now holds 84½ of the shares.

The Inn has 140 rooms and 118 baths, two conference rooms seating 200 people each and eight or ten smaller rooms. At peak times, like a Yale game or the Friday of Reunion Weekend in June, Mr. Stewart says he can handle 270 people.

Dining facilities could accommodate 500 comfortably for three meals a day on instant notice, the manager says.

"The facilities of the Inn lend themselves admirably to its use as a University residential and social center."

Dr. Goheen says, "and the decision has further had to be governed by the very substantial savings in time and money which this conversion will afford us as we proceed with the education of women."

Other Inns. The University estimates "well over 800 rooms (or some 1,500 beds) in the Greater Princeton Area for transients. The total represents 18 different installations."

Dr. Goheen also says "it is reliably reported that a new major motel-hotel will soon break ground in the environs of Princeton."

But Township Mayor John D. Wallace, who expressed "disappointment" at the loss of the Inn, says he knows nothing of such a facility, and speculates on the definition of "environs of Princeton." Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini adds that a projected motel for Montgomery Township near the Princeton Airport, apparently has died on the vine.

On Route One are the Palmer Motor Inn and the Holiday Inn. But Princeton University also owns the land on which the Holiday Inn is built and only leases it to the Inn's management.

Surprise. The University kept its Princeton Inn secret almost until the last moment, even from top municipal officials. The announcement was made Sunday at a press conference. Mayor Wallace said he was informed by Ricardo Mestres, University treasurer, only five days before, on April 15. Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson, who is abroad, was apparently told before he left on vacation around April 12.

In the Township, Mr. Nini thinks the University may have to obtain a zoning variance to use the Inn as a dormitary. The building is in a commercial zone, not an educational zone.

The Inn's liquor license, presumably expendable once the Inn becomes a girls' dorm, has an unknown future. It is part of the Township's quota.

GIRLS HERE NEXT FALL

University Going Coed. Princeton University will admit about 130 women undergraduates next fall as the first step toward becoming fully coeducational. The plan, approved by the board of trustees at a meeting over the weekend, calls for approximately 650 women to be enrolled by 1973-74.

If financial conditions so dictate, the University could hold at this level of 650 for some years; however, the special faculty-administration-student committee, whose plan the trustees adopted, feels Princeton should move "as promptly as possible" to at least 1,000 women undergraduates, a male-female ratio of about three to one. This ratio is regarded as less than optimal by consultants from other institutions.

In commenting on the board's approval at a press conference Sunday afternoon, James F. Oates Jr., chairman of the trustees' executive committee said, "It is with a great sense of satisfaction and pride that we have reached this decision.

The trustees also announced a contribution of $4 million from an anonymous donor toward the coeducation program. Costs are pegged at $7.8 million in new and renovated facilities over the next five years, plus an additional $2 million in endowment for student aid. President Robert F. Goheen said he was sure this gift would attract others, adding that he had no doubt that the University would be able to raise the rest of the money.

The projected needs for construction of approximately $8 million for 650 women are considerably less than the estimate of $25-26 million for 1,000 women contained in the Patterson Report. One major saving was effected by the decision to take over the Princeton Inn, in which the University is the major stockholder.

The University will convert the Inn and its Annex into a "college" type residence, dining and social facility for 375 residents, with occupancy planned for the fall of 1970. Use of other existing dormitories as well as partial conversion of Dillon Gymnasium will also help to hold down costs.

Because of an extensive building program over the last decade, the University's classrooms and laboratories currently can handle more students, thus the addition of teaching facilities is not called for in the implementation plan. The plan does stress, however, the need for recruitment of women members of the faculty and the high administration of the University, particularly in the areas of admission and curriculum.

Girls to Live in Pyne Hall. On a year-by-year basis the highlights of the implementation plan are: 1969-70; admission of about 130 women, about 90 as freshmen in the class of 1973 and about 40 as transfer students in the sophomore and junior classes. They will live in Pyne Hall, a traditionally freshman dormitory located on the southwest corner of the campus. Dining arrangements are still under study.

The following year the enrollment of women will be increased to 375 with the admission of some 160 freshmen and 85 transfer students. Conversion of the Inn is expected to be completed, and in June 1971, the first women will receive an undergraduate degree from Princeton, as some of the original transfer students graduate.

In 1971-72, the female enrollment would rise to 550. It is estimated at this stage of the development a significant additional dining and social facility will be needed. In 1972-73 new residential facilities would be ready to handle a total female enrollment of 630. The present plan calls for a new dormitory unit and new apartments, located near the campus, which together would accommodate 100 students.

Girls' Applications. As the plan to bring women to Princeton next fall was being announced, letters to about 130 female high-school seniors were already in the mail, informing them of their acceptance into the class of 1973. From these the University expects to achieve an entering class of about 90.

The accepted girls were selected from 505 completed applications to the University, which only began accepting them in February, when the trustees acknowledged the possibility that coeducation might begin as early as next fall. No formal recruiting was carried out.

Director of Admissions James T. Osander said that "curricular and extracurricular excellence were the sole basis for judgement." Geographical area, private vs public school, or intentions to major in specific subjects were not considered this year in the absense of a long range policy on female admission standards.

Two groups — daughters of Princeton alumni and black students — drew special attention, Mr. Osander commented. Twenty-two out of 52 alumni daughters who applied were accepted, and ten out of 23 black coeds. The admissions office made several attempts to find more black applicants with the help of referral agencies and Princeton's undergraduate Association of Black Collegians.

Describing the academic abilities of Princeton's first coeds Mr. Osander commented: "We feel the quality of the accepted women is exceptionally high. The 130 accepted and 116 additional girls placed on the alternate list, are students whom any college in the country would be proud to accept."

MRS. MALE WILL RUN

For Mayor. Borough Councilman Alice Male will run for mayor of the Borough on the Democratic ticket. At press time, her Republican opponent had not yet been announced.

Martin P. Lombardo will be the Democrats' number two candidate for Borough Council. His running mate will be incumbent Councilman Robert Hendry.

The Republicans will run incumbent Charles Cornforth, but have not yet zeroed in on a second candidate. Mrs. Christine St. John is still a strong possibility.

Mrs. Melvin Gottlieb will be one of the two candidates for Township Committee on the Democratic ticket. Her running mate hasn't been announced. The Democrats approached Planning Board member William Sutphin, but he is said to have declined.

Tuesday afternoon, the State Supreme Court postponed this Thursday's deadline for filing petitions until next Wednesday, April 30. The primary election will still be June 3.

The postponement will give both Republicans and Democrats a breathing space to find candidates. It has been a difficult year for both parties, a year in which Democrats and Republicans alike have approached men and women from all walks of life, only to find that the urge to participate in local government does not have a very high priority.

The only contented politicians in town are the Township Republicans who announced their two candidates weeks ago. Mayor John D. Wallace will seek re-election, and his running mate will be Dean Chace.

DOG LAW PASSED

Wallace Votes "No." Princeton Township finally has a new dog ordinance. But Mayor John D. Wallace is unhappy with it and cast the lone "No" vote.

The new ordinance, to take effect July 1, provides:

- Dogs must be restrained during the daytime between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. year 'round.
- Dogs can be free and without a leash even during those daylight hours if they are with, and under control of, a responsible person.

- A dog owner must keep his dog off all private property and all public school property and all recreation or park lands unless the dog is controlled as above.
- Penalties: maximum of $50 for the first offense; maximum $100 for second offense; maximum $150 for third and beyond. Jail has been reduced from 90 to 30 days.

Although the public hearing technically ended March 3, the audience at Township Hall Monday night was allowed to comment because several amendments had been proposed.

"I am disappointed in this ordinance, and I honestly think it's not enforceable," Mrs. William Angoff told Committee. Mrs. Angoff and a group of P.T.O. parents were the original petitioners for a stricter dog control ordinance. Their chief concern has been packs of dogs on school grounds.

Definitions. How do you define "a responsible person" and how do you define "under control" and is a dog breaking the law if he's lying asleep on his own front lawn while his master is inside the house? These were the chief questions aimed at Committee Monday night.

Attorney Gordon Griffin said that, technically, a dog was indeed violating the law if he were sleeping in the sun while his master slept inside.

"But dogs running at large are the ones that will be picked up," stated Committeeman William L. Wilson. "That's is the essence of the ordinance." He said a citizens' "clearing house" committee to handle dog cases might be set up.

Mrs. Angoff and Mrs. Benson Carlin predicted that Committee would eventually have to start all over again and pass a total restraint leash law.

"If this doesn't work, we've got to have a 100%-leash law," replied Mayor Wallace.

Why "No". The mayor said Tuesday at his press conference that he voted "no" because he preferred a more moderate law. He said he might have voted for restraint hours of 7 a.m. to 1 p.m., for example, and he predicted that dogs set free at 7 p.m. will be so exhilarated by freedom that they will get into trouble. "And control will be hard to enforce at night."

He said he was disturbed al so because "a responsible person" is not clearly defined, and because he felt that a dog on its own property shouldn't be considered a law breaker.

At Monday night's meeting, Mr Griffin explained that the phrase "under control," for example, would be a matter for the court to decide in each case.

Asked why Committee moved away from leash restraint, Committeeman Thomas Hartman said it was a compromise, and that many owners are able to control dogs and like to walk them.

Zoning Changed. Committee also passed amendments to the zoning and land sub-division ordinances clearing the way for "cluster" zoning if developers want to develop their parcels that way.

Cluster zoning allows a grouping of houses in one part of the land, leaving the remainder in open space. The Planning Board asked for and received, an amendment giving it power to reject a plan if it doesn't like the form of ownership of the open space parcel, or the provisions for maintaining it.

One Way Only

Turn the clock ahead
And do it right,
And you'll begin
To see more light.

Sunday morning may find you a bit drowsy after losing an hour of sleep, but by late afternoon, the familiar pleasures of daylight saving should be well worth it.

Could be that the Weather Man will relent, too, after having left the shower running for most of April. Thursday is scheduled to be warmer than any day in the last ten, and, for a change, the weekend may be dry.

Police Ordinance. Committee passed the ordinance allowing police to live eight miles from headquarters, or five miles if the residence is outside the county. The ordinance isn't automatic, explained Committeeman Wilson; each case will be considered individually.

Mrs. Malcolm Diamond pointed out that the ordinance underscored the Township's need for moderately-priced homes and asked Committee how it planned to alleviate this shortage.

"Most policemen want to own a home, not rent," Mr. Wilson explained, "and I don't know how to alleviate the problem except through subsidy and that would mean the rest of the taxpayers would have to pay."

Mayor Wallace told Mrs. Diamond that Committee is continuing to study the housing problem.

Mr. Wilson reported that a selection board will help screen new members for the police force. A patrolman, a sergeant, and a lieutenant, chosen on a rotating basis, will join with Administrator Joseph R. Nini and Chief Campbell in screening candidates.

William Cherry, 24 Dempsey Avenue, asked about the roles of campus and municipal police in handling serious disturbances.

Mr. Griffin revealed that he has been trying for some months to get an answer from the Attorney General in Trenton on the powers of the Princeton University police. "I've had no clear cut answer," Mr Griffin said.

"University officials seem to have the right to decide when police should be called," Mr. Cherry observed, "I'd hate to see the Township police become catspaws in a complex political situation."

Chief James Campbell told Mr. Cherry and Committee that "we can go in, if it's an indictable offense. If it's trespass, we can't go in unless we're called."

SDS UPSTAGED

By Pro-University Group. The Students for a Democratic Society billed it as the start of the "spring offensive," but the group's plans for a rally on the steps in front of Nassau Hall were largely frustrated Friday by a combination of the rain and a determined defense thrown up by scores of anti-SDS students.

In past rallies, SDS speakers had used the steps as a platform to harrangue against the University and the board of trustees, while the pro university faction heckled from the sidelines. This time, SDS opponents took the initiative and seized the steps 90 minutes before the rally was scheduled to begin.

When the SDS arrived, it was confonted with about 125 students already on the steps. The usual battle of slogans and epithets was followed by the anti-radical group singing "Old Nassau." SDS speakers went on as scheduled, after the rally site was moved a short distance away to a spot near the University's main gate.

Those who spoke varied from Aristides Terzis, a graduate student, who demanded the shutdown of IDA, ouster of ROTC, and a halt to military

Township Tax Rate Set

The Township's tax rate will be six cents lower than the estimate, according to final figures now in from the county.

The rate is $6.51 per $100 of assessed valuation, compared to $6.57 the Township thought it might be. Last year's rate was $6.44.

The drop from the estimate is the result of the school system's bookkeeping error that has added four cents to the Borough's tax rate. Borough school children had been erroneously assigned to the Township and this year's adjustment corrects the error.

The Borough tax rate is $6.74, four cents above the estimated $6.70.

research and consulting, to Black Panther Jimmy York, who shouted obscenities.

At the close of the speeches, about 100 SDS members marched up Nassau Street in the rain to Borough Hall for a performance by the Radical Arts Troupe, and then back again.

Along the way they chanted, "Free Jerry," referring to Jerome McGowen who is currently serving time on the state prison farm for his part in the altercation several weeks ago at the University Student Center between campus and university police and members of the SDS.

A note of levity during the afternoon was supplied by a couple of small-time capitalists, who set up a card table between the two groups and ladled out iced soft drinks at five cents a cup. Their placard read, "Cool Your Fervor, Five Cents. Society Punch. Bitter Lemon Sour Grape."

Perturbed by Lagoage. One offshoot of the meeting was the foul language that spewed from four loudspeakers and which could easily be heard by passersby on Nassau Street.

"It was the worst language I ever heard anywhere," commented Chief Peter J. McCrohan. "All the speakers used filthy language," he said, adding that "every other word" of a Black Panther speaker "was an obscenity. I'm highly perturbed about it."

He reported that he had received about a dozen complaints from citizens, either in person or by phone. One woman, he said, was so irate that she is considering signing a written complaint. Chief McCrohan said that he himself plans to write to University President Robert Goheen.

Asked what he thought the University should have done, Chief McCrohan replied: "I think University officials should have provided another location, if they want that type of meeting, so that people, especially women and children walking up and down Nassau Street, would not be exposed to that type of language. I know they heard it; I saw everyone there from Dean Rudenstein on up to President Goheen."

The SDS members had relocated near the main campus gate opposite Witherspoon Street. Many stood on the wall.

BUY A RHODODENDRON! More than 60 varieties will be on sale Saturday between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. at the 7th annual sale held at The Hun School by the Princeton Chapter of the American Rhododendron Society. At Hun's display garden are (left to right) Mrs. Elmer Greey, I.S. Rossiter, Charles Bahrenburg and Mrs. Leon Heuser Mesdames Greey and Heuser are co-chairmen of the sale; Mr. Rossiter is president of the chapter and Mr. Bahrenburg is director of the Hun display garden. In the garden are 390 separate plants and 89 varieties of rhododendron.

Chief McCrohan estimated that perhaps 300 were listening to the group.

"It was completely out of order," he continued. "I never heard this in Princeton before. I know other places have had it, but I don't know how they hope to impress people with that type of language."

PHASE II FOR SDS

Marine Recruiting Protested. Students for a Democratoc Society moved into Phase II of their spring offensive Monday and Tuesday of this week, when they attempted to disrupt recruiting carried on by two Marine officers on the University campus.

Captains Ronald Corwin and Robert Aaron of the Marine Corps Philadelphia recruiting office were situated in Clio Hall Monday morning when about 100 SDS backers blocked both entrances to their basement office. About 50 counter-demonstrators also appeared and several brief shoving matches broke out and a few punches were thrown, but there were no serious injuries.

The officers left for lunch around noon, but upon their return an hour later found their office blockaded by SDS members. They moved over to Woodrow Wilson Hall where more trouble ensued between the rival student groups.

Tuesday, counter-demonstrators outnumbered SDS members by a sufficient margin

Clear Out Your Attic for Hospital Fete

But don't throw anything away! Instead, call one of the numbers listed below. Your antique Monopoly game or art nouveau Boy Scout tent will be picked up for sale at the Hospital Fete June 14.

Money from the sale of these items goes into the overall Fete contributions to Princeton Hospital. In the past 15 years, the Princeton Hospital Fete has contributed $415,455 toward remodelling the maternity department, equipping a cystoscopic room and adding lobby and reception area to "Merwick".

Here's a list of Fete "shops" and what they need:

Auction Committee: musical instruments, brass, silver or glassware. Call Mrs. F. S. Gallagher, 452-2488 or Mrs. John P. Mclusky, 921-2738. They already have a trunk full of silver and an automobile.

Pool and Patio is new. Because the Fete will be held a week later this year, it will take the place of the Garden Tent, although there will still be potted plants and hanging baskets. Pool and Patio needs flower pots and baskets (all sizes), odd cups and saucers, mugs and beach shells for decorating. Call Mrs. Orville A. Petty II, 466-1521 or Mrs. Glenn Mohrman, 921-7060.

Toy Galaxy: Used records, books, games, large and small toys for children under 12. Call Mrs. Paul M. Lion, 924-0505 or Mrs. Jack Snell, 921-6334.

Second Time Around: Tried-and true women's summer clothes and jewelry in good condition. Call Mrs. Edward McCabe, 924-6122 or Mrs. George Ferguson, 921-9181.

The Pampered Kitchen: Small appliances, casserole dishes, cook hooks, molds, wooden ware, iron ware or any gourmet gadgets you no longer use. Call Mrs. Harry Heher Jr., 921-8708 or Mrs. John Kramer, 921-8917.

The Flea Market: Bric a brac, leather goods, picture frames and small decorative items. Call Mrs. Charles Meyer, 921-2040 or Mrs. Albert Stives, 924-1538.

For Men Only: Men's wearing apparel, sporting equipment (winter and summer), all kinds of camping equipment. Call Mrs. Charles Straut, 924-6871 or Mrs. David Rose, 924-5491.

so that SDS withdrew from Clio Hall with little attempt to disrupt the recruiting. However, the group vowed a big demonstration on Thursday, when it will try to block Navy recruiters.

111 BLACKS ADMITTED

To Princeton Class of '73. One hundred eleven black high school seniors have been admitted to Princeton University's freshman class next fall, a 46% increase over the number of blacks accepted last year.

The accepted black students were chosen from nearly 300 black applicants to Princeton, according to John T. Osander, Director of Admission.

A total of 1,346 male high school seniors, representing 45 states and a dozen foreign countries, were admitted to Princeton's Class of 1973.

For the first time in its history, Princeton's Office of Admission actively recruited non-black disadvantaged students, primarily of Mexican-American, Cuban, Puerto Rican and Indian descent.

"The term 'disadvantaged' refers to that pool of talent we are searching for in urban areas, and wherever poverty seems to have thrown a blanket between the student's educational horizons and our institutions", Mr. Osander explained.

Some 30 disadvantaged non-blacks have been offered admission to Princeton this year, while only 12 were accepted one year ago.

The $15 final application fee was waived for 261 students, the director of Admissions said, reflecting the University's active recruitment of financially disadvantaged students.

The University also raised the number of financial aid offers in the form of scholarships, loans and employment, from 438 to 500.

Mr. Osander indicated that there was a small decline in the number of alumni sons and engineering students, but he said the number of applications from the two groups fluctuates from year to year.

One-hundred - seventy - seven alumni sons, 58% of those who applied, were admitted to next year's freshman class. The number of potential engineering students fell from 259 to 237.

The overall number of men offered admission was increased by 40 this year. Last year, 1,306 high school seniors were accepted.

From the students who have received letters of acceptance, the University expects to draw an entering class of about 820 men, a total slightly less than last year's class of 857.

tim was attacked at 4:54 on Deer Path between Clover Lane and Rollingmeade as she was returning home from mailing a letter at a box on Rollingmeade and Snowden Lane. The victim was taken to Princeton Hospital where seven sutures where used to close head lacerations.

In addition one of her fingers was fractured and another sprained when she placed her hands on her head to try to protect herself. She was released following treatment.

Police are looking for a tall, thin white youth between 17-18, who rude off on a black bicycle. "Apparently this boy came up from behind and hit her on the head three or four times with some object," Sgt. Petrone said. Police were unable tu offer a reason for the attack.

Purse Snatchers Foiled. In the Borough, two attempted purse snatchers were beaten off by women with umbrellas in separate incidents. At the request of the victims, Chief Peter J. McCrohan declined to reveal their names. He described both as "elderly."

One attempted theft took place about 10:30 Friday night on Nassau near Chambers Street. The victim told police that a car drew up with four Negro males inside. A boy, whom she believed to be between 12-14, got out and asked her in a low voice for directions to Princeton Hospital.

As she started to give him directions, she said, he attempted to grab her purse, but, she managed to fight him off with her umbrella. The youth jumped back into the car which sped off west on Nassau. She told police she heard him say as the car drove off, "I tried."

The victim's husband called police at 1:05 a.m. to report the incident.

The other victim was walking with her daughter late Saturday evening on Bayard Lane near the Peacock Inn.

Suddenly, a Negro appeared and grabbed for her purse. She reportedly screamed at him and used her daughter's umbrella to fight him off. Police added the would-be purse snatcher ran into a waiting light green car which drove off in the direction of the YMCA building. He was described as being about 6 feet tall.

APRIL ANNUAL TUESDAY

From 10 to 3. The April Annual, sponsored by the New Jersey Neuro Psychiatric Association, will be held Tuesday from 10 to 3 on the Institute Grounds in Skillman. One of the major events of the day will be a fashion show staged by designer Donald Brooks.

Mr. Brooks has been designing clothes for the past fifteen years. On January 1, 1965 he started Donald Brooks, Inc. and he has been so successful and has so many loyal customers that his clothes have the label of "The Brooks Look". This look is simple lines, pure colors and masterful detailing. He designs his own fabrics—prints in resort and summer collections tweeds, plaids and knits for the fall collection.

He has won three Coty Awards, the National Cotton Award and the New York Drama Critics Award.

Mr. Brooks was born in New Haven, Conn., moved to New York City for fifteen years and is now living in a 1750 Colonial house in Roxbury, Conn.

He studied Fine Arts and English at Syracuse University and Art History and Design at the Parsons School of Design. He still goes to Parsons but now he is a critic—lecturer working with their design students. So much for a brief summary of Mr. Brooks' life.

Mr. Brooks will be at the April Annual Fashion Show this year bringing with him three of his models. There will also be four Princeton girls modelling, who have all had professional experience.

THE BEST NUMBER to call for classified advertising is 924-2200.

MODELING AT THE APRIL ANNUAL: Betty Schlansky, Donald Brook's house model, discusses the selection of clothes to be modeled at the April Annual fashion show with Mrs. W. Bryce Thompson IV, one of the Princeton models in the show. The April Annual is set for Tuesday from 10 to 3.

NEW PLAN APPROVED

For University Trustees. In a meeting marked by historic decisions Saturday, Princeton University's board of trustees not only approved a plan for coeducation to begin next fall, but also agreed to open the board to younger members. Still another decision made by the board will give students the authority to enforce social rules in dormitories, signifying an end to the long-bated "parietals," the rules governing women in dormitory rooms.

In changing the requirements for election as a trustee, the board adopted three proposals made by the executive committee of the Alumni Council, the coordinating body of Princeton's 40,000-member Alumni Association.

To take effect this spring, the plan calls for one graduating senior each year to be elected as an Alumni Trustee for a four-year term by a vote of the two upper classes and young alumni. The Trustees also approved a second, special election this year to add to the board a member of last year's Class of 1968 as a new Alumni Trustee, and the elimination of the requirement that the regular Alumni Trustees be at least 10 years out of Princeton.

The voting for the new young Alumni Trustees will be restricted to members of the junior and senior classes and of the two most-recently graduated classes. The deadline for nomination is May 1.

In place of parietals, the Undergraduate Assembly will name a committee to oversee dormitory life. Next year the UGA will form a Central Dormitory Council composed of five fair-play committees to regulate social life.

TO CONTROL TRAFFIC

In Shopping Center. By July 1, a plan to control traffic and parking in the Princeton Shopping Center will be in the hands of Township Committee.

Under a new state law the Township can legally move into the Shopping Center with traffic and parking control and Mayor John D. Wallace said this week he will shortly appoint a group to block out such plans.

The group will consist of representatives from the Planning Board, Traffic Safety Committee, police department, site plan review board and the Township's law firm.

YOUTH IS JAILED

In Default of Fine. Tony W. Brown who lives at the Princeton Inn, dormitory, was sentenced to seven days in Mercer County Jail last week in default of a $35 fine for fighting.

A second charge of trespassing was adjourned by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. in Borough criminal court.

In other cases, Edward F. Callahan, 39, of Philadelphia, was fined $35 for molesting and interfering with a woman in the Garden Theater. He pleaded not guilty.

A Baltimore resident, Joseph Pate, 43, was sentenced to 15 days in jail for begging on Nassau Street. He was sentenced an additional 15 days for tampering with motor vehicles in front of Borough Hall. The two sentences were to run concurrently.

Chong P. Kong, 47, 34 Witherspoon Street, and Willie Chin, 29, of Lakewood, were ordered to pay $10 court costs each, after each dropped the charge of assault they had made against each other. The two were allegedly fighting in a Witherspoon Street restaurant.

Brian A. Woolford, 19, Alexander Road, was fined $35 as a minor in possession of alcohol. Pfc. Anthony Ranfone was the complainant.

NEWCOMERS WELCOME: Final preparation for the Princeton YWCA's Newcomer Annual Spring Dinner-Dance are made by chairman Mrs. E. Peters Myers (left), and co-chairman Mrs. Roger Moderbach. All newcomers in the Princeton area are invited to attend the dance on Saturday, May 3, at Pine Brae Country Club. Reservations are requested one week in advance. For further information, phone Mrs. Myers at 924-6289.

Hearing Waived. The attorney for Phillip Bobbitt, 20, 1901 Hall, and Gregory Treverton, 21, Pyne Hall, Princeton University, both charged with attempted larceny and entry at Community Liquors, 23 Witherspoon Street, waived a preliminary hearing before Judge Tams.

They were continued under $1,000 bail to await action by a Mercer County Grand Jury.

STUDENT FINED TWICE

In Borough Court. A Princeton University student was fined twice Monday in Borough Traffic court by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Ashley Ennis, 18, a resident of Silver Springs, Md., was fined $20 for speeding, and $12 for failing to observe a flashing red light. He denied both charges.

Barry R. Schwinn, 19, Hopewell-Amwell Road, Hopewell, was fined $15 for failing to keep right in an intersection.

Last week in Township court, Adolfo Lopez, 111 Blair Hall, Princeton University was fined $5 by Judge Burton Peskin for abandoning a car on Alexander Street.

Stanley S. Pashko, 67 Rollingmeade, and Anthony Lieggi, 7 Caldwell Drive, were each fined $10 for allowing their dogs to run loose on school property in the Township.

LET'S MOVE CLOSER

Consolidation? A joint Borough-Township Planning Board ordinance has been prepared by the joint Borough-Township attorney, Gordon Griffin, and Township Mayor John D. Wallace said this week that he hopes the Township will introduce it in June.

Also, Mr. Griffin has suggested ways the two Boards of Health might be combined. Mayor Wallace said, and Township Board of Health president William Kleinberg has promised to talk with the Borough about merger.

Within ten days or two weeks, the state will report to Mayor Wallace and to Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson on its study of Borough and Township municipal budgets.

FALLS IN STORM DRAIN

Victim of Freak Accident. A research employee at Princeton University was the victim late Saturday morning of a freak accident on Murray Place.

According to the police, as Mrs. Virginia Egbert, 164 Moore Street, was walking on Murray near Prospect Avenue, she stepped on a surface drain cover located in the middle of the sidewalk. As her foot came down on the cover, it flipped up and Mrs. Egbert fell in the drain up to her shoulders.

She was taken to Princeton Hospital where 14 sutures were needed to close a laceration in her right leg. As she fell, she dropped her purse which police said was swept away.

Road Under Repair

The section of Cherry Hill Road between Ridgeview Road and Cherry Valley Road in the Township, has been closed for about one month for reconstruction.

All traffic in that area should use Ridgeview Road and Great Road. More information may be obtained by contacting the Princeton Township Engineering Department, at 921-7077.

Mrs. Ida Rosen of 120 Prospect Avenue, called police at 11:21 to report that a woman had fallen in a storm drain. Police said that water pressure from recent rains had lifted the drain cover just enough to unseat it.

RECORD SHOP ENTERED

Albums, Cash Stolen. The Deuce Record Shop, 198 Witherspoon Street, was entered last week by a thief who forced a rear window.

Taken, according to police, were about $46 from a cash register, 100 albums ranging in price from $3 to $6 each and a black case containing diamond stylus needles valued at $100. The entry was reported Friday morning by Mrs. William Purcell. Sgt. Robert Anderson investigated.

The Youth Center on Witherspoon Street which was reported entered and robbed last Tuesday was apparently entered again some time Friday night.

Pfc. Gerald Patterson reported that a ground floor window on the east side of the building had been broken. Police said, however, they were unable to ascertain if anything was missing.

KEY PUNCH STOLEN

Valued at $1,000. An IBM table model key punch machine valued at approximately $1,000 was reported stolen Monday by Charles Johnson, manager of ITT Data Service, 53 Bank Street.

Mr. Johnson told police when he arrived Monday morning at 7:45 he found the front door unlocked. He estimated the machine had been taken between that time and 10:30 the night before.

Ptl. Arthur Jackson investigated. There were no signs of forced entry.

In other thefts, Charles J. Harris, a Princeton University student, reported the loss Sunday of two cameras and two lenses with a combined value of $260.

Mr. Harris told police that he had left the cameras on a table in the main hallway of Dial Lodge at 6 p.m. When he returned five hours later, they were gone. Ptl. Charles D. Harris investigated.

The business manager of Princeton Theological Seminary, William Lawder, reported on Monday the theft of two stereo speakers from the recreation room of Stuart Hall on the campus. He said that the speakers, which he valued at $90 each, had been mounted in the room's ceiling. Sgt. Theodore Lewis investigated.

William Tice of 111 North Hall, Westminster Choir College, called police Friday morning to report the theft of both rear tires and wheels from his car. He said his car had been parked overnight near North Hall.

Archibald S. Alexander

ALEXANDER TO RUN

For Assembly. Archibald S. Alexander Jr., who ran unsuccessfully for mayor of the Borough in 1967, has been tapped by the county Democratic organization to run for state Assembly in the Suburban District.

Mr. Alexander's running mate will be Paul J. Sollami of Ewing Township. Both men are attorneys.

Mr. Alexander, who lives at 61 Westcott Road, specializes in administrative and family law with the Newark firm of Lum, Biunno and Tompkins. He was graduated from Princeton in 1955 and from Harvard Law School in 1960.

He belongs to both of Princeton's Democratic organizations, serving as assistant treasurer of the Princeton Democratic Association and carrying membership in the Princeton Community Democratic Association. He is county committeeman for the Borough's District Eight.

The candidates served on the Lord Committee that drafted much of the legislative program presented to the legislature in 1965 by Governor Richard Hughes.

PACKARD STATEMENT DUE

From School Board. The status of Mrs. Alice Packard, Riverside School principal; contract decisions in regard to Superintendent Philip E. McPherson and Dr. Constance Vieland; a progress report on the search for a high school principal and a review of the Wednesday Program will be on the agenda Tuesday at 8 p.m. when the Princeton Regional School Board meets at Community Park School.

Mrs. Packard submitted her resignation as principal in February and then announced to Riverside parents on April 3 that she had decided to remain after all.

The board met with Mrs. Packard last Thursday to talk it over. Because the board had formally and publicly accepted the original resignation, it could not rescind its action, according to a ruling from board counsel Thomas F. Cook. The board can, however, reconsider. The results of that reconsideration are due for announcement Tuesday.

Personnel matters up for action are the granting of tenure to Dr. Constance Vieland, school psychologist who is director of the controversial Wednesday Program, and contract renewal for Superintendent Philip E. McPherson.

Dr. McPherson's two-year contract expires July 1. According to Thomas Cook, board counsel, if the contract is renewed for a year, Dr. McPherson would go on tenure July 1, 1970. Board members had raised the legal question of possible automatic tenure in January, when Dr. McPherson will have been with the school system 30 months.

On the search for a new principal of Princeton High School, "We haven't yet interviewed anyone," says board superintendent John Marks, "but we hope to announce on Tuesday that we've begun to interview candidates."

Filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Associate Superintendent John Wolfkeil will also be discussed. It was announced last week that Mr. Wolfkeil will leave at the end of the scool year to become assistant superintendent in the public schools of Danbury, Connecticut.

STUDENTS ARE INJURED

When Car Hits Pole. Three teenage students trying to make it back to school in Pennsauken were injured at 3:35 Monday morning when their car hit a pole on Route 206 near Arreton Road.

Glenn K. Houston, 18, of Collingswood, the driver, sustained contusions of the nose and chest pains. He was charged with careless driving by Ptl. David Wilbur.

Also injured were Lawrence W. Thompson, 19, of Chester, and John W. Kebles, 18, of Freehold. Thompson had contusions and abrasions of the head; Kebles, a lacerated lip and contusions of the right elbow. All three were treated and released from Princeton Hospital.

Houston told Ptl. Wilbur he had fallen asleep and awoke when the car ran off the road onto a gravel shoulder. But, he added, he was unable to keep from hitting the pole.

Flowers Cause Crash. A Wilson Road driver ran in a pole Thursday when she reached to retrieve a flower pot that had fallen from the front seat of her car.

Mrs. Louise L. Miller, 73, 51 Wilson Road, told police, "I leaned over to pick it up and the next thing I knew,

I had hit a pole." The impact snapped the pole in half.

Mrs. Miller was treated at Princeton Hospital for chest pains. She was ticketed for careless driving by Pfc. Timothy Huising for the mishap, which occurred on Westcott Road, some 100 feet east of Wilson Road.

SCHOOL MERGER BACKED

In W. Windsor and Plainsboro. An overwhelming vote in West Windsor and Plainsboro Tuesday created a merged school district for the two municipalities. In Plainsboro, only seven negative votes were cast while 165 supported the proposition.

The vote in West Windsor was 718 to 59. The effective date is July 1, when the two existing boards will be replaced by seven residents of West Windsor and two from Plainsboro. Selection will be made by the school superintendents of Mercer and Middlesex counties, the former naming seven of the new members.

The new board will serve until the first Tuesday in February, when the first district election will be held. The 7-2 ratio will obtain until results of the 1970 census are known.

FASHION SHOW SET FOR SUNDAY: Pat Clark (left) and Heather Grate are members of the Princeton Activators, an organization planning a fashion show to be held Sunday at Princeton High School. Stores which will cooperate for the benefit of Multiple Sclerosis include Bellows, Little Heel Shop and Picadilly. Models will be students from Princeton, Lawrence, Montgomery, Notre Dame, Hopewell Valley and Hightstown high schools.

The first major assignment facing the new board will be decisions on construction of a high school. Both West Windsor and Plainsboro were notified several years ago by Princeton that it could not continue to accept their pupils at the secondary school level when the present contract expires.

THREE CASES LISTED

For Borough Zoners. The Borough Zoning Board will consider three applications at its April meeting Thursday at 8 in Borough Hall.

Nicholas Dewey, 114 Spruce Street, needs a conditional use permit to convert an existing single family home into a two-family dwelling. Mr. Dewey does not meet all the bulk requirements covering yard, coverage and lot size.

John Apai, owner of Clearose Studio who has moved his studio from 148 Nassau Street to 217 Nassau, hopes to enlarge his present business area by enclosing portions of a front porch. He needs a use variance.

In a third case, the board will continue hearings on a previous application by the Nassau Street Corporation. Owner Oliver Houghton wants to add a two-story addition to his building at 221 Witherspoon Street and enlarge the parking area in the rear.

The building is located in two zones in which a maximum of 49 percent of the building space can be devoted to business. Mr. Houghton wants to devote all of the building to business. He has obtained site plan approval for his proposed expansion from the Borough Planning Board.

INDEX DOWN ON BALANCE

For First Quarter. TOWN TOPICS' Business Index, which always takes on a bearish appearance in the first quarter following a slowdown in activity from the previous three months, looked a bit thin on the annual side also this time. The experts have been predicting for some time that the nation's economy would begin to cool off, and the extension of the 10% tax surcharge may have had a definite influence on consumers here.

New car sales are naturally down from a record-breaking fourth quarter total of 728, but the 9% drop from the total of 667 recorded in the first quarter a year ago may be indicative that some new car purchases are being postponed for a while. Two years ago, however, the figure for the first three months of 1967 was only 497, so the drop is not unduly sharp.

Housing starts and building permits always drop in these three winter months, but with just two exceptions all the indicators are also down from a year ago. Housing starts are up by four in the Township, a big percentage increase, but not much numerically, and building permits are up in the Borough.

Those occasional astronomical percentages for the value of building permits are back again, reflecting a major drop in proposed building activity in both municipalities. Both had amounts of more than $2 million in the previous period, and the Township also had more than $2 million a year ago, while the Borough was over $1 million. This is due, in part, to a lack of any large construction plans, such as University housing complexes.

The three banking indicators are showing normal trends. Savings continue to rise, as they have in virtually every quarter since the Index began. Checking accounts always show a slight drop in the first quarter of every year, as income taxes and post-Christmas bills are paid. They show a healthy 5% increase over the period a year ago.

Amid reports of the prime interest rate rising to record levels, loans at Princeton's four banking institutions have nevertheless continued to increase. As with savings accounts, loans have had a steady series of pluses over the years.

A good sign for the Borough is the continued rise in parking meter receipts. The big jump over last year is traceable to the changing over of many meters, so that it now costs more to park for less time. Telephones in service are also increasing each quarter.

ECONOMIST HIRED

By Investment Firm. Mary Bennett Peterson, 475 Riverside Drive, has joined the staff of Laidlaw & Co. as an account executive.

Mrs. Peterson has been writing the "Reading for Business" feature for the Wall Street Journal since 1964. She studied economics at the New York University graduate business school.

Mrs. Peterson has completed a manuscript entitled "The Regulated Society", scheduled for publication next year, and she is co-authoring a book on investments with Dr. Douglas Bellemore, professor of finance at N.Y.U.

She has recently lectured before the Princeton Branch of the American Association of University Women and to the Economic Roundtable of New York.

Direct Flights Scheduled

Suburban Air Lines, which last month took over the operation of all Princeton Airways flights, has announced that it is instituting direct Sunday flights to Washington, D. C. They will start this Sunday.

The first Sunday flight flight leaves Princeton at 4 p.m. and arrives at 4:59 at Page Terminal, Washington National Airport. The return flight leaves Washington at 6:05 p.m. and arrives in Princeton at 7:15. This is the first new service started under Suburban Airlines.

WILKES TO RETIRE

After 48 Years With Bank. Victor A. Wilkes, of Somerset, will retire next week as vice-president of The First National Bank of Princeton, ending a 48-year banking career.

Mr. Wilkes joined The First National Bank 12 years ago as assistant cashier in the commercial department. Since that time, the Nassau Street Bank's assets have grown from $25 million to $80 million.

"This speaks well for the Princeton area", the 65-year-old bank executive said, "for our growth has been achieved without mergers or acquisitions."

Mr. Wilkes started his banking career in 1921 as a relief teller for the Miners' National Bank in Wilkes Barre, Pa. He earned about $60 a month.

Mr. Wilkes will celebrate his 65th birthday on Sunday and after retirement, he hopes to travel with his wife. The Wilkes expect their sixth grandchild to be born in June.

NEW ASPECT TO SUMMER

At The Hun School. A unique "Institute on the United Nations" will be held for four weeks this summer at The Hun School.

"This is an enrichment, constructive type of program that supplements the usual summer school review or preview," Dr. Paul R. Chesebro, headmaster, said in announcing the new program last week. "It marks the direction that the Hun School summer program will take in the future."

The Institute on the United Nations, open to 50 students, offers a close, informal examination of the international organization through frequent visits to its New York headquarters, lectures at the school by diplomats assigned to the UN, and films on technical assistance programs. It will run from July 7 to August 1.

Topics to be discussed are based upon the role of the United Nations in resolving disputes in various parts of the world. Discussion will center on the Middle East conflict, the invasion of Czechoslovakia, and the tension in Southeast Asia — particularly in Vietnam.

Coordinator of the Institute will be H. D. Sikand of Skillman, a senior official with the UN from 1947 to 1962 who will be joining the Hun School faculty this fall. Mr. Sikand, a native of India, served in economic and technical assistance projects in Asia, Europe and the Middle East. He is former director of the Institute of Social Studies at Punjab College, Amala, India; and has taken part in economic seminars at Columbia and NYU.

The Institute is open to qualified students in 11th grade and above. Boarding provisions are available for boys; coed and adult students will be accepted on a day basis. The cost is $450 boarding, $200 day.

The program is scheduled to run approximately four hours a day. "I intend to bring home to the students the various economic, political and social activities of the United Nations," Mr. Sikan said last week. "We will discuss the functions of the Security Council, the Economic and Social Council and their achievements. We will also go into the 12 specialized agencies of the UN, such as UNESCO, World Health and so on, as well as the trust territories.

"We will make up a mock Security Council and discuss some of its problems — such as the India-Kashmir dispute, or the Israel-Arab problem. The UN representatives will be asked to speak on topics of their own choosing."

STUDENTS TO BE CITED

For Achievements In Latin. Outstanding Latin students from Princeton High School and Middle School will take part in the 26th annual Latin Honor Awards' Program and Tea at 3:30 this Thursday, in the High School auditorium.

Dr. Kenneth D. Matthews, Director of Education at the University of Pennsylvania Museum, will be the featured speaker at the program. Kenneth Michael, principal of the High School, and Eugne Birinyer, principal of the Middle School, will also participate in the award ceremonies.

After Dr. Matthews lecture, Latin teachers will present certificates to all students who have maintained at least a B average in Latin for the year.

The Princeton High School orchestra, under the direction of Sylvan Friedman, will present a special classical music program at the assembly.

HOUSE TOUR PLANNED

By Hopewell Valley Group. Five private homes and the Hopewell Museum will be visited during the third annual Hopewell Valley Jaycee-ettes' Spring House Tour, from 10-4 p.m., Saturday.

The tour will include: The French Provincial home of Mrs. James Barnes, Pretty Brook Road, Lawrence Township; the restored Colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Brashier, Amwell Road, Hopewell Township; the home of Rev. and Mrs. Douglas J. Kersey, Blackwell Avenue, Hopewell Borough, built in 1900.

Also, the wood-panel ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Murphy, Honeybrook Drive, Hopewell Township; and the contemporary home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mowle, Jr., also on Honeybrook Drive.

Tickets for the tour may be ordered in advance by calling Mrs. Fowler at 466-1074, or Mrs. Laaksonen at 466-3813. Proceeds will benefit a Hopewell scholarship fund.

VETERAN TO SPEAK

On Vietnam War. Lt. Colonel Gordon Mohr, one of the ten most decorated veterans of the Korean War, will discuss the war in Vietnam at 8 p.m., Tuesday, at the John Witherspoon School.

Tickets for Colonel Mohr's speech, "The Missing Alternative Is Victory!", may be obtained by contacting Kenneth R. Bube at 359-8387, or at the door the night of the talk.

Obituaries

Dr. Charles H. Collins, 70, of 247 West Tenth Street, New York City, died April 16 in St. Clare's Hospital, New York City. He was a retired physician.

Born in Saranac Lake, N.Y., Dr. Collins was a member of an old Princeton family and a former resident here. He moved to New York 10 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Cecelia T. Collins; a son, John H. Collins of Princeton; a daughter, Mrs. Jane Harrington of Thompsonville, Conn., six grandchildren and one brother, Harold F. Collins of Golden, Colo.

Requiem mass was celebrated in St. Paul's Catholic Church. Interment was in the family plot in the parish cemetery, under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Lynn E. Cain, 76, died April 18 at his home, 11 Westcott Road.

A native of Ironton, O., he was the historian for the Trial Farm of the Ferry-Morse Seed Company of Rochester, Mich. for 45 years. He was treasurer of the Monday Club of Princeton.

A sister and three neices survive him.

The service was held in the Westerly Road Church, the Rev. Edward H. Morgan officiating. Interment was in Mount Avon Cemetery, Rochester. Arrangements were made by the Mather Funeral Home.

Memorial gifts may be made to the Westerly Road Church.

John F. Teamer, 79, formerly of Mercer Street, died April 22 in Riverview Nursing Home, Trenton. He was a retired electrician.

Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Robert Perrine of Princeton.

Graveside services will be held at 11 this Thursday in Greenwood Cemetery, Trenton. The Rev. John Hallenbeak, assistant at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, will officiate. There will be no calling hours.

John D. McLanahan of 850 Park Avenue, New York City, formerly of Princeton, died on April 20. He was a retired banker.

Born in Baltimore, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel McLanahan, he graduated from the Lawrenceville School and from Princeton in 1916. In 1917 he received a master's degree in economics from Princeton. At his death, he was serving as president of the Class of 1916.

He held a series of positions in banking in New York City, ending as trust officer with the Bankers Trust, from 1928 to 1959.

After retirement, Mr. McLanahan was business manager of St. Bernard's School for a number of years. He was an elder and trustee of the Central Presbyterian Church, New York.

He went to France with the International YMCA in May 1917, later transferring to the Engineer Corps where he served as a lieutenant under Augustus Trowbridge of Princeton. After the war, he was adjutant in Squadron A, New York City.

Surviving are his wife, the former Margaret Janeway; two sons, David and Bruce, and three grandchildren.

has been devoted to arts of the American Indian, including private collections of decorative clothing, jewelry and ceremonial artifacts from the Sioux, Kiowa, and Osage tribes.

Southwest Indian tribes are represented by a collection of handcrafts from the American Indian Arts Center in New York. Items such as Navajo jewelry, basketry and masks will be on sale.

A collection of dried flower pictures and foil paintings from the Now 'N Then Shop in Cranbury will also be on sale.

50 YEARS WED

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Kren of 49 Park Place will observe their 50th wedding anniversary at a family gathering this Sunday.

They were married April 27, 1919, in Malgern, Yugoslova. Mr. Kren, a farmer, lost everything during World War II and came to this country in 1950. Until his retirement in 1957, he was employed by Charter Club on Prospect. Mr. Kern is now 77, and his wife, Maria, is 76.

The couple have a married daughter, Maria, in Graz, Austria ,and a son, Albert Kren, owner of the Princeton University Typewriter Repair Service; five grandchildren and three great gandchildren.

INTERVIEWS SCHEDULED

For Stuart School Classes. The Stuart Country Day School will interview four and five-year-old girls for its fall preschool and kindergarten classes on Saturday.

Interested parents can schedule interview appointments by calling the Country Day School at 921-2330.

"The program is designed to introduce the child to the world at his own level," explained a school spokesman. "Stuart's goal at the primary level is to give a child confidence in herself, a sense of joy in learning, and the idea that work is rewarding."

The school is conducted by the Religious of the Society of the Sacred Heart. Its faculty is comprised of 22 lay teachers and 12 nuns.

RELOCATION BEGINS

For Route 27. The State Department of Transportation began work Monday to relocate Route 27 in the vicinity of the Millstone River and the Delaware and Raritan Canal, at a cost of almost $937,000.

The contractor, Perkins, Kanak, Foster, Inc., of Morrisville, Pa., will clear and strip the area between the Millstone River and the canal in Franklin Township, and then build a new bridge over the canal.

Work at the intersection of River Road and Route 27 in Princeton Township is to begin May 15. A detour closing River Road and rerouting traffic is expected to remain in effect for five months. While construction is in progress on the new route, traffic will be maintained on the old Route 27.

PTA LIMITS SALE

Of Magazine Orders. The executive board of the Princeton High School PTA has limited next year's Scholarship Magazine Drive to four or six weeks, beginning October 1969.

According to Mrs. William R. White, president of the board, "the board hopes to give better service to its customers by ordering magazines before the holiday rush."

Mrs. White added that next year's contrated sales effort should eliminate "any ill feeling against the Magazine Drive which has arisen in the community due to a delay in receiving magazines."

The PTA Scholarship Fund will renew any subscriptions which will expire before October 1. Renewal slips should be sent to the PTA by May 28.

STEINER TO SPEAK

On "The Egg and Us." Andrew Steiner, owner of the Princeton Gourmet, will speak on the preparation of eggs at 10:30 a.m., Tuesday, in the second floor meeting room of the Princeton Public Library.

In his talk, "The Egg and Us," Mr. Steiner will describe the preparation of various egg dishes and will demonstrate techniques for handling utensils.

EXCAVATION COMPLETED

For Medical Arts Addition. Construction has begun on a 4,400 square-foot addition to the north wing of the Princeton Hospital Medical Arts Building, to be ready for occupancy in early October.

According to Hospital Administrator John W. Kauffman, the extra office space the expansion provides has already been leased to present tenants, including the Princeton Medical Group and individual physicians.

Marshall Erdman and Associates, Inc., of Princeton, which designed and erected the north wing in 1962, is also handling the addition, which will include a full basement and two floors.

News Of The CHURCHES

CAMP FUND TO BENEFIT

From CWU Luncheon. The annual May Fellowship Day luncheon of the Church Women United will be held at 12:30 p.m. on Friday, May 2, at the YWCA. The offering will be given to the CWU camp fund, which observes its 10th anniversary this year.

Speakers will be Dr. Alfred B. Vuocolo, superintendent of the State of New Jersey Training School for Boys, Skillman; and Miss Judith Morgan, director of volunteer services at the New Jersey State Home for Girls, Trenton.

Mrs. Harry Hill, camp fund chairman, will report on the 1968 program, which sent 22 boys and girls to camp. During its 10 years, the fund has given 172 children camping experience, many of them going for their entire summer. Last year's program cost $1,643, leaving "a slight reserve for this year," Mrs. Hill told TOWN TOPICS.

"This year—I am very proud of this—we received $30 from the 7th and 8th grade girls at Princeton Day Schools, who held a bake sale. The camp fund goal this year is to bring the total of children who have benefited up to 200. "We need $1,800 to do this," Mrs. Hill adds. "If we raise more, we could send the children for longer times."

The camp fund has been in Mrs. Hill's hands since it was founded ten years ago. Donors include such organizations at the Women's Club of Princeton, the Elizabeth Taylor Bird Fund, the Friendship Club, and the women's groups in 12 Princeton churches.

Children are sent to the YMCA, YWCA, Boy Scout and Girl Scout camps, to special camps such as those run for the mentally retarded or psychologically disturbed. Mrs. Hill is particularly impressed by the YMCA Ranger camps for boys. "We usually save out a little for the Ranger Camp boy who wins the trip to Colorado or Nova Scotia."

The camp fund has been spent on the children of migrant workers who have settled here, on children of working parents, or of invalided mothers and similar instances, up on the advice of the town's social workers.

"Of the 114 Princeton children sent to Y camps last summer on scholarships, we sent 20," Mrs. Hill adds. Social workers in the Borough and Township send in lists which are combined by the YM-YWCA, Mrs. Hill explains. "Then we go to them and ask what the children we sent last year are doing this summer — and then we ask for new ones."

CLERIC TO LECTURE

On Black Theology. The Rev. Albert B. Cleage Jr., pastor of the Shrine of the Black Madonna, Detroit, will give three lectures and a sermon in Miller Chapel at Princeton Seminary this week. His general topic is "The Theology of the Black Church."

The lectures are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. this Thursday, at 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. on Friday, and the sermon will be part of Friday's chapel service.

COLLEGE GIRL TO SPEAK

At Mother-Daughter Banquet. Miss JoAnn Agens will address the Mother-Daughter Banquet at Princeton United Methodist Church, scheduled for 6 p.m. on Friday, May 2. A junior at Trenton State College, Miss Agens holds a bachelor's degree in nursing and represented the college in 1967 as summer ambassador to India with the Experiment in International Living.

Mrs. Harvey Hook, chairman, is in charge of reservations. Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for children aged 5 to 10. April 28 is the deadline for reservations.

The program also includes music by the junior choir, directed by Mrs. John MacDonald; a business meeting conducted by Mrs. John L. Johnson, president of the Women's Society, and election of officers. Mrs. Arthur Benson is chairman of the nominating committee.

TO HEAR DR. SCOTT

At Princeton Baptist. Dr. R. B. Y Scott, professor of Old Testament at Princeton University, will begin a series of four informal discussions on the books of Proverbs and Ecclesiastes this Sunday in Princeton Baptist Church, Penns Neck.

The series will be held at 9:45 a.m. in the fellowship hall of the Christian education building facing Washington Road, and is open to all interested adults.

Dr. Scott is author of a number of books and articles, including the commentary on Proverbs and Ecclesiastes in the Anchor Series.

PLEDGES INCREASE

In Trinity Campaign. The Stewardship Campaign at Trinity Episcopal Church reported last week a net increase of $14,061 in pledges.

As of April 14, the committee had received 564 pledges for $169,922, with $31,000 needed to reach the $200,000 goal. The average pledge has increased to $301.28, compared with last year's average of $297. One hundred and fifty-six families, at the time of the report, had not responded.

ELECT FOUR DELEGATES

To Interfaith Council. Princeton United Methodist Church has announced the election of four of its five delegates to the new-forming Princeton Interfaith Council: Mrs. T. Robs Webb, Mrs. W. Donald Rugg, J. Guy Woodward and Larry Bumpass.

The Interfaith Council is being formed to provide an instrument of dialogue, worship, study and action in the Princeton community. The Council's first meeting is set for 8 p.m. on May 28 in First Presbyterian Church.

COLLOQUIUM UNDER WAY

For Clergy. New Jersey Roman Catholic, Jewish and Protestant clergymen are taking part in the first "University Clergy Colloquium," held once a week on the campus under the sponsorship of the Princeton University chaplains. According to the Rev. Dr. Robert P. Montgomery, Presbyterian chaplain and Colloquium chairman, "My colleagues and I . . . feel that an adequate ministry to the student generation requires us to be better informed on the issues being dealt with in this series. We felt that our fellow clergy in the parishes are called upon to address themselves to the same issues. . . ." Faculty members will deliver six lectures.

Sociologist Suzanne Keller discussed "Changing Values in the American Family" last Tuesday, and continues with "The Future of the Family" this Tuesday. Biologist Edward Cox opened the series on April 15 with a lecture on "The Ethical Implications of Genetic Engineering."

Future speakers and their topics are: (May 6) architect William Shellman, "Architectural Space—Its Human Use;" (May 13) political scientist Paul Sigmund, "Civil Disobedience and Law and Order." (May 20) historian James Billington "Contemporary Issues in Higher Education." Dean Neil Rudenstine will respond to his address.

The lectures are held in Murray-Dodge Hall, followed by a dinner.

BULLETIN NOTES

Rev. Dr. James I McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, will be the visiting minister this Sunday at Rosedale Chapel, Carter Road. His topic is "The Christian Imperative." The service is at 11.

Donations for the spring rummage sale of the Women's Society of Christian Service at Princeton Methodist Church may be brought to the church any morning of the week of the sale, which is scheduled for Thursday, May 8 and Friday, May 9. Mrs. Robert Irven is general chairman. Mrs. Ray Kell and Mrs. Frank Heacock are co-chairmen.

The Rev. F. Hugh Lifliton of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will conduct the Anzac Day service in New York this Sunday at the request of Consul-General R. J. Lawrence of New Zealand. The service will be held at 3 in the Anzac Memorial Garden in Rockefeller Center

SPORTS In Princeton

PDS NINE WINS FIRST

Beats Lawrenceville, 8-2. After the first two scheduled games had resulted in a cancellation and a 1-1 tie, both due to rain, the Princeton Day School baseball team took advantage of dry weather Monday and recorded its first win of the season, 8-2, over the Lawrenceville varsity team.

Friday the squad will meet a strong Rutgers Prep team, currently, 6-1, with its only loss to the Rutgers freshmen. The contest should provide a stiff test of the Panthers' abilities.

Against Lawrenceville, the Blue and White produced nine hits, all singles, and took advantage of some poor play in the field by the opposition plus six walks to coast to its first triumph. The first three men up (lead off batter Peter McCandless got on base four times in all) scored the first three runs.

Other Sports

On Pages 36-40

The Panthers added single tallies in the second and fourth innings and wrapped up matters with three in the fifth. Craig Page has shown so far that he has definitely mastered his control problems. He limited Lawrenceville to just one hit and walked only three.

Against Wardlaw Friday, PDS held a 1-0 lead from the first inning until the fifth, when Wardlaw scored the tieing run with two out on a walk, a steal and two wild pitches by Page, who was attempting to throw an extremely wet baseball. Rain washed out further play and the game was called a tie.

The Panthers got their lone run on a walk to McCandless, a sacrifice by Dave Cloghorn, a single by Page and an infield out by Carl Jacobelli. Page has struck out 17 men in two games.

NETMEN WIN SECOND

Somerville Here Friday. Princeton High School's tennis victory over Peddie Monday was its second 3-2 win of the season in as many starts. Peddie's record is 2-3.

Coach Bill Humes' team will play two home matches next—Somerville on Friday and Cathedral next Wednesday. Both will start at 4.

Against Peddie, Princeton's number one singles player, Ted Fritsch, lost in straight sets, 8-6, 6-4. The Little Tigers gained a 2-1 edge in singles play, however, when freshman Steve Tobolsky and Mike Jameson won in straight sets, both by the same scores of 6-0, 6-1.

The two doubles matches were split. In the number one doubles, Humes paired Scott Raaum and Maurie Bloom, who won the first set but dropped the next two. PHS took the match when Bill Tobolsky, a junior, and Kevin Curtis won in three sets.

TOWN . . .

2 CAMPBELTON CIRCLE

— a distinguished address in the borough west side — and a jewel of a house. Converted some years ago from the gardener's cottage on the Armour estate, and handsomely added to with a contemporary air more recently, this white brick tudor home is the right house in the right section for the family desiring charm and privacy and location.

Secluded living room with fireplace and bow window looking out over walled grounds, panelled family room with its own entrance and a second fireplace — with, also, its own flagstone terrace, formal dining room, sunny kitchen, two baths, and a huge walk-up attic under the steep pitched roof. Garage and carport.

Here is a house to fall in love with — and a listing we proudly offer at $95,000

ON A HILL OUTSIDE OF HOPEWELL BOROUGH we have a 3 bedroom house with a view for miles. It is a plain house on the outside but with a new tiled bath, new modern kitchen, large living room with fireplace and a dining room. There is also a semi-basement which serves as a second kitchen and sitting room. The lot is 1.6 acres with many shade and fruit trees. $20,000. THE LILY LITTLE CABIN in the HILLS is BACK ON THE MARKET. A buyer loked over the house, then built on the little lot and backed out. The house has been used in several years and the trees are heavy and overgrown. The place needs cleaning up. It would be work but would be a good start for the right party. You have to be handy and not afraid to work. $8500. LARGE DOUBLE HOUSE IN HOPEWELL Has nine 5 room duplex in immaculate condition, a 3 room partment and a mercantile space on the ground floor. There are, also, in the rear, a shop with 3 garages. A good income and residence property $42,500. CHEERFUL BRICK HOUSE ON A PLEASANT SITE WITH MANY FLOWERING TREES. On Pennington-Titusville Rd. near Akors Corner. Three bedrooms, separate dining room, living room with fireplace and unfinished room for expansion, a large kitchen, two car garage in basement and a playroom. A swimming pool of a good quality on a well-landscaped yard. If you are looking for good value in a good area, make an appointment to see this place. $41,900. LAND IS A GOOD THING TO BUY AND IF YOU WANT TO BUILD THIS YEAR, YOU SHOULD BUY YOUR LAND SOON. (As to the wisdom of building at the present interest rates, that's hoping for a different color). LANDI LANDI LAND. An acre lot with a splendid view overlooking Hopewell Valley, $7500. A 2.69 acre lot in the Princeton area with nice trees, $8500. 5 acres of rugged terrain up on Mingo Mt. There are you can show off to the city visitors. $10,500. A 15 acre tract with many big trees and big boulders hidden up on Mingo. A real formidable retreat. Not for sissies. $12,000. 3 acres of rolling land with a brook near Headquarters. $12,000. 2 plus acres of Dogwood Drive with a commanding view of Hunterdon county. $10,500. Heavily wooded hillside slope — a spectacularly secluded spot. 2 acres for $11,000. JOHN D. GUINESS, Real Estate Broker, 2 West Broad St., Hopewell, N. J. 466-2461.

It comes in three economy sizes.

These are just some of the sizes Volkswagens come in. Regular, large and giant economy size.

Regular, you know. It's the familiar beetle.

Large is our Squareback sedan. It holds more than the largest trunk of the largest sedan.

Giant economy size is our big bus-like box. It holds nearly twice as much as the average station wagon.

And all three VWs do everything you expect a VW to do.

They have air-cooled engines (in the rear, of course). So there's no water to boil over or freeze up. And no need for antifreeze.

And they're easy on gasoline. The big and the Squareback average about 27 miles on a gallon. The box about 23.

So you see, no matter what size we make Volkswagens, they're all economical.

Why not come in and size one up?

TRUE OR FALSE? . . . A MATTER OF LAW

#8 in a series of messages to Princeton area consumers from Paul J. Krebs, Executive Director, N. J. Office of Consumer Protection, Newark. (Presented here as a public service by the Consumer Education Committee of the Consumer Bureau. The opinions expressed by Mr. Krebs are not necessarily the opinions of Consumer Bureau, Inc.)

5. "You can not usually get out of a contract if you change your mind about making a purchase," TRUE. Contracts should not be treated lightly. Your signature on a contract binds you to all of its terms. Often a salesman promises that you can cancel but the contract itself states "This contract is non-cancellable." No matter what the salesman tells you, the only thing that counts is what he writes down. Remember, sales slips, purchase orders, receipts, invoices and promissory notes are contracts even though that word may not be used.

6. "It is illegal to refuse credit to someone because they once had a judgment or garnishment against their wages." FALSE. No finance company, business or bank is required to make any loan to any applicant when they do not wish to make such a loan. A judgment or garnishment of wages is usually by court order. Once it is known that a judge had to order you to pay a debt, you are considered a bad credit risk. Reputable lenders become reluctant to take a chance on you again. Remember, credit is a tool. Once you lose your good credit standing, it can take two years or more to get it back.

ALWIN NICOLAIS DANCERS: Costumes, staging, lighting, electronic music — and choreography — all come from the mind of Alwin Nicolais, whose dancers appeared in McCarter Sunday as the final event in this season's dance series.

NICOLAIS DELIGHTS

At McCarter, Beauty radiated from McCarter Theatre's great stage Sunday evening as Alwin Nichaiais' dancers projected extra movement to movement, with more light to light, more sound to sound than we have recently seen or heard. It's an unusually large stage, yet from it, his dancers —only ten in all—gave forth new dimensions.

An opening piece made this declaration at first sight. Ten dancers, all wearing the same stylized headdresses which are worn throughout the whole evening, immediately gained height, extension and significance. A turning of the head, a leaning or an inclination were thus always emphasized and even answered by dancer to dancer.

Gowns of various textures, rich in contrasting colors, were worn in various shapes, from straight but soft falling in stripes from neck to floor, to balloon and flowing, gathered at neck and foot.

Rather than dehumanizing the body, the stuffs and shapes added to the movement, so that when a pas-de-deux came along, with people climbing on each other's shoulders without the balletic dash, that leaves nothing to the imagination as leotards reveal all, one appreciates the mystery and multiplication of lines created by Nicolais' costuming, a costuming which in no way impedes the unusual choreography.

All this, mind you, still by Nicholais: costumes, extraordinary lighting, (some of it from footlight level), staging and now the choreography.

But even the choreography can't be mentioned alone, so fused is it with the electronic music also composed by Nicolais. This is the heart of the matter, the springboard, the reason for the whole performance.

Nicholais is a choreographer who lovingly surrounds his dance with creations from his other talents. But the moving power is dance. He has many delights in this field, one of them being the contrast between fast, still and slow. His dancers glide, run, jump and hold still in a variety of leanings and on-lines, off-lines, with the music anticipating or echoing what is seen, coming in at times to accompany fully. Nothing is haphazard, all is a constructed whole, beautifully executed, especially by Phyllis Lamhut and Murray Louis.

If you want to find meaning, there is humor and dignity and joy, for the most part. You may read into these dances a symbolism if you wish.

The possibilities are many and they offer a lead into the imaginative world. What is sure, is that beauty and happiness were imparted in large quantities to a delighted audience.

WEATHER REPORT: RAIN "Fludde" This Weekend. Come early and be in tune for the downpour

"Noye's Fludde" at Trinity Church will begin promptly at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and at 4 p.m. Saturday afternoon and nobody will be seated after everything has started.

Trinity suggests you arrive early for the best seats in your section. Some $2 seats for Saturday night are still available and may be purchased between 10 a.m. and noon at the Trinity office or reserved by calling Mrs. Richard Paynter, 921-6720.

FAR ROCKAWAY!

"Music Man's Pied Piper. Lured hy the sound of music from Meredith Willson's score to "The Music Man," amateur and semi-professional musicians have converged on Princeton from towns as far away as Bound Brook, Somerville, Flemington and even the Jersey shore.

Cast and chorus for "The Music Man" come from 23 different communities, in fact. The figures are those of Milton Lyon, who is directing this ninth annual P. J. & B extravaganza. (Of course it's an extravaganza. How else do you define anything with a cast of 169?)

It will be given in McCarter on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 8, 9 and 10 with a Saturday matinee. Tickets are on sale now at McCarter.

NEXT FILM: ENGLISH

"The Leather Boys." A British film dealing realistically with London's lower middle-class young people will be shown at McCarter on Tuesday, April 29 in the International Film Series.

"The Leather Boys," directed in 1965, features a young mechanic (Colin Campbell) who marries a teen age high-school drop-out (Rita Tushingham). Since neither is prepared for marriage, each tries to escape and the mechanic's route is via his motorcycle.

REALLY INCREDIBLE

String Band. The Incredible String Band only has two members, but who needs more?

The band, due to check in at Alexander Hall on Saturday, May 3, was a best selling recording group in England for months before anybody over here had ever heard of them. Well, that's the way it goes. . . .

Mike Heron and Robin Williamson—the band—are Scottish. They stir together pop, English and American folk, rock, blues, calypso, children's songs and music from the far east, sometimes all in the same song.

PLAYERS AT WORK

Scenery and All That. Has Sir Laurence ever slapped sizing onto a canvas flat?

The record is unclear. So probably, was the flat if he ever held the brush.

Community Players, all of them, are expected to help out around the shop and not just play Hamlet all the time. On Sunday afternoons, therefore, members of the Princeton Community Players meet to do what they can about the scenery.

"For the first time," says Dirck Dimock, punching a staple through canvas and 2 x 4, "the Players are working with canvas flats. We'll have 12 of them for these two plays, and it's a big job."

Two Coming Up. These two plays, of course, are Harold Pinter's "The Lovers" and Eugene Ionesco's "The Bald Soprano." They will open Friday, May 2, at 8:30 in the Unitarian Church theatre, Cherry Hill Road, and will play again Saturday, May 3, and the following weekend.

Before canvas, there was homosote. The Players have used such temporary substances as honeycomb cardboard and homosote, but the new and present canvas flats are pretty darned near permanent, and will be used after the bald soprano and the lovers have gone home.

Mr. Dimock is in charge of set design and construction and has been designing for Community Players for about two years. He went to Clyde Blakeley of McCarter to learn how to make the new flats and has been zealous in passing on his new information to a working crew.

That working crew spent all day Sunday in the spacious country yard of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Niederlitz, stapling canvas to frames and painting on sizing. Mrs. Niederlitz—Suzanne—is vice-president in charge of membership for Community Players. She is also the actress who is playing Mary in "The Bald Soprano" and is the owner of that nice big garage-barn where the flats are going to be stored. You might say she is just about the Players' most valuable player

IT'S ABOUT TIME . . . Dirck Dimock is the works as well as the face for this stage clock. He designed and made it for Community Players' two forthcoming spring plays, Ionesco's "The Bald Soprano" and Pinter's "The Lovers." The clock will keep time in both. That's Sherrie Dobrott on the left, and Barbara Herzberg on the right. All were part of a Sunday afternoon Community Players work crew. (Marie Bellis Photo)

Two Windows, One Door. "Most of the flats are plain canvas," Mr. Dimock explains, munching a pretzel during a staple break, "but we do have two window flats and one door. The flats will be used for both plays, but some furniture and the decorations will be changed."

"The nice thing about these canvas flats," observed Mrs. Barbara Herberg, lifting one, "is that eveo a small person like me can carry one by herself. Except," she added suddenly, "in a stiff breeze. . . ."

In the sunny country yard are Mrs. Sylvia Fontijn who is president of the Community Players ("Normally," she said, wiping sizing out of her blonde hair and arching an eyebrow, "the president simply doesn't DO this sort of work. . . .") and Mrs. Shirely Kauffman who has directed, acted in, produced for and worked on, almost every Players' production in the memory of man; Mrs. Sherrie Dobrott who is relatively new; Mrs. Herzberg who is vice-president in charge of production, and an assortment of very young Players chiefly occupied on the swings.

"Last year, we 'allowed' each child to have a turn painting homosote," said Mrs. Fontijn, leering wickedly.

This year, kiddies wash brushes and have been 'allowed' to stuff envelopes and lick stamps. They also work on the pretzels.

Action! One more work day this Saturday, then the scenery goes up for a full week of rehearsal.

The flats are taut and professional looking. Mrs. Fontijn and Mrs. Kauffman display raw knuckles as a testimony to the taut pull of canvas on frame.

Mr. Dimock enjoys stapling well enough, but there's this clock. . . . It is a grandfather's clock (see photo) constructed of masonite so deftly joined you'd think it was—well, walnut with tongue and groove construction, maybe?

Mr. Dimock looks at it approvingly. "I made it," he says with disarming candor, "myself."

BARRAULTS ARE COMING

THE SHINY SIDE OF BUYING

Is The Service. . . "If you see a handbag advertised in our New York store, I would have one sent down for you," Henry G. Eccles, manager of Saks Fifth Avenue shop on Nassau Street said the other day. "One thing that I stress with my staff is service."

The Princeton shop, one of four university outlets maintained by the coast-to-coast SFA chain (Ann Arbor, New Haven, Cambridge), has five competitors in the immediate area, "so we can only give service and guarantee our merchandise."

Though the shop is heavily stocked with men's wear, a number of women customers take advantage of Sak's accommodating ways "They may see something in the New York paper, shoes, for instance. We obtain it with a smile — and absorb the postage."

If a male customer wants an outout - of - season suit and the Princeton shop is not stocked with them, Mr. Eccles gets on the phone for him.

And in August and September of every year, the Princeton SFA has a special offer on men's made-to-order clothing. "We have our manufacturers send us fabrics, and we make up suits and sports jackets at a very reasonable price. This feature has appealed to the area residents — even to the size 48-extra long and the hard-to-fit."

Mr. Eccles began managing the Princeton shop in 1967, after a number of years in the New York store. "In 14 years in this business, I have never met the equal of Joseph Federici, our fitter and tailor here," he says. "In this day and age, you expect a percentage of mistakes, but Mr. Federici never does. His quality workmanship is a tremendous asset to this store.

SAK'S PRAGMATIC SLACKS: Manager Henry Eccles (left) and Bill Wood describe Sak's Fifth Avenue's colorful printed and striped slacks for men as "a compromise — they're slightly flared, but NOT bell bottoms!"

The New York buyers for the Saks Fifth Avenue stores, he notes, "don't go overboard, but they're not afraid to come out with something new if they think it would be in the public interest. For example, we did not go into Mao suits or bell bottom trousers, but we are the first in the country to have the new double knit synthetic suiting. It came out this year and is carried in New York only. . .but when I had a call from one of my customers asking me to get him one, I took care of it."

Princeton's Saks Fifth Avenue Shop has been here since 1942, always in the same block on Nassau. The first manager, genial Bill Wood, is still there, having relinquished his administrative duties after a heart attack in 1961. He and the shop will mark their 25th anniversary this August.

The purpose behind the Sak's university shops is to acquaint the college students with its brand of service and quality clothing. The student, Mr. Eccles notes, doesn't necessarily know the difference between a sport jacket at $40 and at $60.

"He is likely to take the $40 jacket and not examine the tailoring." He says that students are not dressing as they used to. The store has made some conservative moves to accommodate them, such as the ties four inches wide you'll see on the rack. The shirts are more vivid these days.

In the main, however, it is the quality-minded who use Saks, buying the good fabric, well tailored suits and jackets, the fine knits that wear and wear and still keep their shape. You'll find men's hats, shoes, coats, sweaters, and so on. Most of the outerwear and all of the sweaters are imported.

Mr. Eccles, when you get him off the topic of the store ("I'm dedicated to Saks"), has another enthusiasm, which is Princeton. "I couldn't find a nicer town — it's like the town I grew up in. These have been the happiest two years in the U.S."

He grew up in Lytham-St Anne's, Lancashire, in northern England. During World War II he served aboard an escort carrier, the "Campainia," taking part in convoys to Russia and Gibraltar. During the last 12 months of the war he was at a mobile operational airbase in Singapore.

His son, who enlisted in the Marine Corps three years ago, was wounded three times in Vietnam and has just returned with plans for college. And his daughter, Noreen, is a senior at Hightstown High School and plans to be a nurse. She's also his ready aide when the store is in a rush season.

Looking around the store, he says, "I've never been disappointed in anything that our buyers have chosen. It makes it much easier when you are a salesman when you have confidence in your merchandise. I have never had a customer walk out of here annoyed, that I have been aware of — which is something to be happy about, when you think of it!"

He puts a great deal of confidence in his staff: Bill Wood, Mrs. Jeanne Bennett, who used

M. Barrault and his wife will present an evening of "Love Poetry of France," accompanied by music from the compositions of Ravel, Rousel, Faure and Debussy.

FASHION, A LA BALLET

Show This Sunday. A spring fashion show to benefit the Princeton Regional Ballet Company will be held Sunday at 3 at the Princeton Ballet Society, 262 Alexander Street.

Choreography for the show has been done by Carol Estey and Eleanor Lamont, and the fashions come from the "Elle" and "Satorn" shops. Refreshments will be served at 2 and 3 p.m.

FILM FESTIVAL NEXT

At Princeton High. Movies made by Mercer County teenagers will be viewed during the week-long "Film One" festival at Princeton High School, May 12 to 15.

Film One will climax with an all-day workshop during which many of the films submitted will be shown and discussed. That evening, the five best films will be shown.

Entries may be 8 or 16-millimeter, color or black-and-white, silent or sound. Individuals wishing to submit a film may leave it with Mr. Lawrence Mansier of the English department or mail it to him in care of the school.

GARDEN

Gone With The Wind (now playing) looks just as great and still casts its magic spell as irresistibly as it did back in 1939 when it began its phenomenal career.

Technically, the color is just as lovely, even though the original 35-mm print has been blown up, almost frame-by-frame to wide-screen. And such spectacular scenes as the burning of Atlanta and the visit of Scarlett O'Hara to the railroad station where thousands of the Confederacy's young soldiers are dying gain in visual impact on the huge screen.

As for its story and characters, "Gone With The Wind" retains all its epic strength, sweeping the spectator along with the majesty of its theme of reconstruction and rebirth after the devastations of war.

Clark Gable gave his best performance as Rhett Butler, and it seems inconceivable that anyone but Vivien Leigh was ever tested for the role of Scarlett. Olivia de Havilland's Melanie provides a classic example of how an actress can make a character sweet but never mawkish. And Hattie McDaniel and Butterfly McQueen, as Mammy and Prissy, created real people, not just Negro stereotypes. Only Leslie Howard's performance seems stilted today.

Running time 3 hours, 40 minutes.

PLAYHOUSE

2001: A Space Odyssey. The far reaches of outer space are explored in Stanley Kubrick's visually splendid, highly imaginative science fiction film.

It moves from the bare beginning of the world, past prehistoric man and then ascends through space and time to the year 2001. Here scientists are gathered on the moon to examine a reappearing monolith, and send out a space probe to follow strange signals which it seems to be beaming to Jupiter.

SCIENCE-FICTION: Gary Lockwood as he appears as Astronaut Poole in "2001: A Space-Odyssey," the adventure film held over this week at the Princeton Playhouse.

The odyssey craft is manned by two astronauts (Keir Dullea and Gary Lockwood) and a super-human computer which seeks to take control of the space ship. It destroys one of the men and is itself destroyed, rendering the ship inoperable. The survivor, on his deathbed somewhere on the planet Jupiter, is finally confronted with the ageless monolith, whose origin and meaning remain an enigma.

There are stunning special effects and extraordinary psychedelic colors and shapes. The long, epic space adventure is an intricate, fantastic and overwhelming experience.

Reminder: check the Playhouse advertisement for show times.

PRINCE

The Subject Was Roses (now playing) Patricia Neal's return to the screen after a three-year absence enforced by a near-fatal illness is a source of great satisfaction. She retains her capacity to give a skillful performance. Her marvelously expressive eyes still convey a sadness—now deepened—that goes beyond the power of words, and she uses them here effectively to portray an embittered wife and mother who feels that life has somehow passed her by.

The film is an intimate drama about family relationships with three major characters—a father, a mother, and their only son who has just returned from service in the Army in World War II. It was a successful stage play by Frank Gilroy, who also wrote the film script.

Jack Albertson as the father and Martin Sheen as the son are both repeating their stage roles. The measure of their superb performance is nowhere so fully revealed as in the scene when the son tells his father he has always loved him but has never been able to put it into words. It could have been corny, but it isn't.

Student Wins Prize

Jimmy Peskin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Peskin, 327 Walnut Lane, won the "best supporting actor" citation in a two-day statewide drama festival held last weekend at Rider College.

Young Peskin, a junior at Princeton High School, won the award for his role as Wong, the narrator, in Brecht's "The Good Woman of Setzuan." He is a member of the Princeton High School Repertory group working under Donald Evans of the English department and he has been active in P.H.S. theatre since he joined the freshman-sophomore Mercury Players.

He will play Schroeder in a forthcoming P.H.S. production of "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" and he played one of the two fathers in last fall's "The Fantasticks." Last year, he designed the lighting for two high school shows, and later this spring, he will be stage manager for "The Rivals."

With Andy Block, also a Princeton High School student of Mr. Evans, young Peskin has had brief parts at McCarter.

to manage the Hay and Clover shop on Nassau; James Giglio "a tremendous assistant;" and Jerry Mennella, a Princeton High School student who handles receiving and shipping and general duties after school and during vacations. "He's already an excellent salesman." And Mrs. Constance Brennan, the highly-responsible office secretary.

His goal for the shop is continuing emphasis on service and quality. And while you're being so nicely accommodated, you might inquire about the sports clothing catalogue for men and women and put your name on the mailing list.

IT'S "OPEN" SEASON

At Betty Wright's. The new mini-dresses with airy, cut out sections are eye-catchingly new at the Betty Wright Shop at 144 Nassau Street. So are the dresses of India prints, buffalo hide sandals that you shaoe to your foot by standing in a bucket of water, and the zodiac-weave "Greek" bags.

It's a young-minded shop and Mrs. Helen Glover keeps a ready rack of the jewelry that the avant garde like — such as the three-inch rings of silver filigree, and harem-type pieces of jewelry that start as a ring on your finger, continue as a gold-chain web across the back of your hand, ending as a bracket on your wrist.

It's a fun place to browse, and to get back to the cut-outs, we thought them extremely feminine and enchanting. There's a white cotton mini dress with open sides crosslaced from arm to hem with wide green bands. There's matching trim at the high waist and at the shoulder straps; brief pair of white panties comes with. ($19.95)

Another in apricot cotton has long, matching pants with a slight flare if you want to wear the dress as a tunic. The cut outs are huge circles at the dress sides, banded in yellow and green. It's a very geometric outfit—and charming.

A wide-sleeved dirndl dress made of embroidered fabric from India combines a blue-green skirt covered with tracings in blue and white designs, paired with a gathered neckline bodice, set off with long, full sleeves. The bodice is an off-white, covered with embroidered rows of diamond-shaped designs in blue and hunter's green. Others on display include some made in India, simple lines in vivid prints, touched at the neck with typical Indian dangle jewelry.

For the demure look, Betty Wright has a deep collared yellow cotton eyelet dress with a flaring line from the high

MUSIC
In Princeton

MARLBORO IS BACK

For Final Concert. Music by Mozart, Schoenberg and Schubert will be played by the eight musicians who make "Music from Marlboro" when they come to 10 McCosh next Tuesday at 8:30 p.m.

This will be the last event in the chamber concert series sponsored by the Princeton University Department of Music. Tickets are on sale at the Concert office in Woolworth Center on weekday mornings, or can be purchased at the door.

The program will consist of the Mozart String Quartet in E Flat Major, K. 171; the Schoenberg String Trio, Opus 45 and the Schubert Octet in F Major for Winds and Strings, Opus 166.

These works were rehearsed by the group all last summer during the Marlboro Music Festival in Vermont. The musicians are Felix Galimir and Hiroko Yajima, violins; Samuel Rhodes, viola; Fortunata Arico, cello; Julius Levine, bass; Richard Stoltzman, clarinet; Joyce Kelley, bassoon and Richard Solis, horn.

TO SING HANDEL

In Milbank Concert. Handel's oratorio "Alexander's Feast," or "The Power of Music" will be performed this Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the University Chapel for the 38th annual Milbank Memorial Concert. The public is invited to attend.

The Princeton University Chapel Choir will be under the direction of Carl Weinrich. Soloists will be Shirley Emmons, soprano; Sylvia Jones, soprano; William McGrath, tenor and Stephen Kimbrough, bass.

"Alexander's Feast" is based on a poem by John Dryden written in 1697 to honor St. Cecilia, the patron saint of music. The oratorio was first sung in 1736 and was an instant success.

CONCERT PLANNED

For Merwick Patients. The Hun School Glee Club and the Prospect Hill Country Day School Glee Club will give a joint concert at 7 p.m. Saturday for patients in the Princeton Hospital's Merwick Unit.

The program, led by Hun School Music Director Goff Owen Jr., will include two sacred choruses by the combined glee clubs, "Most Glorious Lord of Life," by W. H. Harris, and Psalm 133," by Hans Leo Hassler.

waist to the hem, which is fully two yards around. Long sleeves.

The buffalo sandals, by the way, are for men or women. They have the usual toe ring and center T-strap — all in a rich brown. From India, $5.

The store is narrow and deep, so you wind your way past a bemusing amount of things as you head for the fitting area — such as Apache scarfs ($1.30 to $3.50); and American Indian bead bands for across your forehead; Swiss music box in a cow's horn; straw handbags that are copies of the famous Cape Cod-der with the whalebone trim ($12.); chain belts with dangling loops for the medieval look ($3.50 $15).

We saw an armful of the wide-brimmed straw hats in pastel colors. Some come with a soft net band that ends up as a chin strap, others have fringed rims, and others are interesting blends of two colors, such as the one with the high crown in soft white, with the wide, floppy brim interlacing blue into the white. All colors, it seems, and soft, floppy, and feather-light. Great to wear with your new scarf or a touch of flowers.

Betty Wright Shop carries Mexican beaded pendants, which a customer described as "love beads" and she has used the term ever since. A circular design in beads hangs at the base of the long, woven cord.

Mrs. Glover has also the new vinyl bathing suits that look like a black snakeskin. It's the leather look again, and cut into a simple suit for a terrific figure. Deep V-s fore and aft, with white insert at the waist. ($18) It is as light as a pencil and dries in no time at all.

Youth Board Action Wrong.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The action taken by the Adult Board of the Princeton Youth Center in firing Wilbur L. Williamson as director of the Center is one more piece of evidence of the widening gap between groups in this community.

Apparently Mr. Williamson has an ability to relate to youth and to guide them in seeking identity that no amount of academic credentials can guarantee.

The Board of the Youth Center seems to be trying to mold all of the youth in Princeton into one group. It does not seem to recognize that there are many different groups, as there should be, and as there are in any community.

The Board should be specific in stating which group it wants to serve, and not attempt to satisfy all the groups, for it cannot. If the Board does not want to serve the youth in its immediate neighborhood, it should get out and allow the area to have a center of its own.

The Adult Board has violated the trust that the youth placed in them, and may have created a worse problem than the community had two years ago. In my work I see daily evidence of what happens to young people who have been hurt in this way, and I therefore protest the unthinking attitude of the Board who are more concerned with credentials than people.

Bailey's Letter Backed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

As one who has had six years of local school board service, I associate myself completely with the observations made by Herb Bailey in his letter that you published last week.

Our school affairs cannot be conducted on the town meeting principle. We must give our democratically-chosen school board members, whoever they may be, large measures of credence and support or we will eventually wreck our school system.

WILLIAM L. WILSON
225 Jefferson Road

Editor's Note: With a number of Princeton residents as "sponsors," Mr. Bailey's letter is reprinted elsewhere on this page.

Reply to Mr. Bailey.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I read the article, "Let the Schools Alone," (TOWN TOPICS' "Mailbox," April 17 issue) and I am quite amused by Mr. Bailey's request. I wonder if this so-called vituperation is the community's desire to rock the boat a little bit?

It seems a little odd that Princeton citizens as voters and taxpayers can repeatedly question their federal government in its domestic and foreign policies, and vote for changes, but when it comes to local problems, particularly the schools, then there is this request by Mr. Bailey and others to "leave the teachers and administrators alone — let them do their job, let them do anything they want to."

Is Princeton's educational system so good as to escape close scrutiny and questioning by the electorate? These people are not only voters and taxpayers, but also parents. They have a right under our system of government to question and to object to anything they do not understand or oppose.

I feel it is an unfair request to ask the people of Princeton to abrogate this right given to them by the Constitution of the United States, so as to return to the philosophy of indifferentism and apathy, which I am trying to fight.

Perhaps the changes stated by Mr. Baikey are wonderful but people do have a right to question and to dissent on the federal, state and local levels. It may sound raucous, discordant, and a little disorganized, but compared to apathy and indifference, or riots and rebellions, it is preferable and a beautiful sound indeed. So, citizens of Princeton, I am proud of you. Keep up the good work. But don't only dissent and debate, but vote. It is your right.

"Wednesdays" Discussed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

As a Community Participant in the Wednesday Program, I, too, have some observations and suggestions for consideration. Observations: 1. The Wednesday Program is based on the excellent premise: Increasing creativity and personal growth of the individual participant, with the ultimate benefit to the entire school system.

2. The lack of direction in the Wednesday Program is seriously jeopardizing its future. The relevancy of the Wednesday Program to the urgent needs of the Princeton Regional Schools is in question.

Suggestions: 1. That the next program be based on the most urgent priorities to be determined by a committee of staff and community. 2. that priorities be clearly outlined with each participant selecting a working-study group concerned with solutions and empowered to help implement changes.

3. that the time scheduled for Wednesday dismissal of students be changed from 1:00 to 2:00 P.M. so as to allow a smoother school schedule. 4. that each participant wishing to work independently, submit proposals to a committee of his peers, as well as any results.

5 that a portion of the school — community body be committed to innovative study, either independently or collectively.

6. that courses relevant to these priority needs (i.e. Bill Cook's "Negro in American Literature," Earl Thomas' "The Disadvantaged Student," etc.) be encouraged and a portion of the future program allocated for those who would partake of these.

7. that a professionally run

WE REPRINT THIS LETTER FROM TOWN TOPICS BECAUSE WE FEEL IT SO APTLY EXPRESSES OUR CONCERN:

Let the Schools Alone.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is only ten weeks since I finished my term on the School Board, and I am dismayed at what is being done to the school system by uninformed and vituperative community criticism.

Many if not most of the "facts" alleged in recent "letters to the editor" are wrong, and many of them are based on a faulty understanding of the procedures by which a school system must operate. I beg the community to come to its senses, to stand back and let its elected representatives run the school system, and to avoid destructive controversy. The victims of the present dissention will be our children, now and in the future.

Much has been accomplished since Regionalization, though, as with most educational changes, the effects are not immediately visible and the strains are painful.

The school system is beginning to realize the improvements that Regionalization made possible — a greatly improved middle school, better coordination throughout the system, improved vocational programs, vastly increased assistance for children with special handicaps, better racial integration (numerically, in spirit, and in course content), increased utilization of government programs, and improved financial administration.

Moreover a district-wide attempt to institutionalize future improvement has been undertaken, placing increased responsibility on the techers (where it belongs) and providing new opportunities for community participation. And in a system that must replace about 20% of its teachers every year, there has been an upgrading of quality through improved recruitment and selection. In all this Dr. Pherson has taken the lead, with the support of the School Board — and it is a substantial record.

This is not to deny that mistakes have been made. The Wednesday Program can and will be improved. The procedures for administering principals' salaries will be revised. Greater efforts will be made to keep the community informed about changes — but there will and must be changes; otherwise we cannot improve.

Is there anyone who believes that, good as it is, our system is good enough now? If so, let him consider the problems, not just in the high school but at all levels. They are the problems of growing up, the problems of our society, and the problems of our community.

But these problems are not going to be solved by sharp letters to the editor or accusations or innuendos at public meetings. They can be attacked only by hard thought and effort by our teachers and administrators and by our School Board.

Nor can the community at large deal effectively with questions of individual salaries or appointments — or resignations! Can the public really know all the facts, and should it? Can the public deal responsibly with delicate questions of personnel? If you don't like what the Board does, elect someone else next time: but meanwhile let them run the school system. You elected them; they are dedicated and responsible citizens.

As for the Superintendent, Dr. McPherson, I would like to go on record as giving him my full support. I do not agree with him on various matters, as indeed I have disagreed with several Board members on various issues over the years, but I respect his intelligence and dedication and ability, and I believe that under his leadership we have our best chance of achieving our aspirations for our children.

If he can't do the job, it will be mainly because we haven't let him — and if he should leave (as some seem to hope), where will you find as good a man to take his place? Would another equally qualified man be so foolish as to follow him, seeing how he has been and is being treated? Well-qualified, dedicated and imaginative superinfendents are in great demand, and there are not enough of them to go around.

Being Superintendent in this community is a great opportunity only if the community is willing to tolerate and support change leading to improvement. If Dr. McPherson leaves, all we will get will be a caretaker superintendent, the school system will be set back at least five years, and the promise of Regionalization will be largely lost.

So this is a plea for everyone to calm down and let the teachers and the Superintendent and the Board do their work. Because they are human they may make mistakes, but they will do better if we all get off their backs. And so will our children.

Sensitivity Training Program be conducted as an adjunct to the Wednesday plan. — for how can one know children — who doesn't know himself? Our changing society presents a constant challenge, a re-examination of "Values" and "self" is imperative.

The participation of all staff and community members in a progressively developing system is a necessity for full understanding and support. The program must grow, not cease.

The momentum has begun, a definitive method of attack is required. A more structured plan of attack would, I believe, help us achieve our goals more quickly, more understandably, and more desirably.

Personally, I would not have missed the opportunity to partake in this effort. However, I have received both satisfaction and frustration from the Wednesday Program. Satisfaction from my interaction with some outstanding and dedicated people; frustration from the realization that important concerns needing immediate attention are being left untouched.

We are fortunate for being in a town excited by education. Let us use this constructively!

Water Policy Questioned.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The following is the text of a letter to Governor Hughes.

ELIZABETH G.C. MENZIES

926 Kingston Road

Some of us feel that the approach of the State Division of Water Policy and Supply toward river management is incomplete. To all appearances, Water Policy's intent is only to keep open little more than the central channel in our rivers.

Today, when water is recognized as a valuable resource, such a concept seems out of date. Modern water conservation dictates that the entire flood plain of a river be kept open to allow flood waters to spread and soak into the land as Nature intended.

The belief that our river management is incomplete is based, in part, upon the recent decisions by Water Policy to allow the Department of Transportation to use fill in the flood plain instead of piers in their construction of the new bridge on Route 27 across the Millstone River at Kingston, and to allow the Church of Christ to fill the flood plain (demonstrated in photographs) just north of the bridge site on this river.

There arises a point of precedent here in that in 1966 Maud Gilmer, who owned all the flood plain in question, was permitted to encroach to 300 feet from the center of the river. (Her encroachment far beyond this may have been, perhaps, before the existance of a Water Policy Commission.

But precedent cannot be allowed to control advancement, or we would still be pumping water from the front yard well, because we always did it that way.

Yet it cannot be denied that to deal with such legal problems the Department of Water Policy and Supply should have the most competent and forward-looking legal advice. They should have a lawyer able to cope successfully with such problems.

They should also have, as well as their present valuable staff, some highly placed, forceful men trained in modern river management and ecology, and some men who can go "out in the field" to know the river situations first hand.

As well, additional clerical staff might be of help to the efficiency of Water Policy and Supply. This might enable them to get off any letters they might write on or near the same day they are written, instead of post marked a week later.

It is to be hoped that with these additions to the staff, Water Policy could function better. They might, for instance, avoid ignoring landfill as it is dumped, then later demanding its removal, thereby bringing on the probability of fierce legal battles — for once the fill is in, a developer is not inclined to the expense of removing it.

Water is important, we must safeguard it effectively. It is no longer thought best to drain it away and run it off down the rivers into the sea.

Zoning & Trap Rock.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Virtually all the Franklin Township Council candidates have made good zoning a major campaign issue. As a resident of the First Ward and as an officer of the Trap Rock Area Citizens Association I would like to ask why Mr. Stavola of Kingston Trap Rock Co. should dictate a major zoning change which benefits only his own business and is detrimental to Franklin Township as a whole, let alone disastrous for the First Ward.

It is not unreasonable to assume that a similar takeover could occur elsewhere in the Township, bringing something else as unattractive as an open pit mine.

This zoning change legalizing and permitting a vast expansion of the Kingston quarry is at great expense to the taxpayer: not only will two major roads be moved solely to benefit the quarry but also Franklin Township will lose the very sizable potential tax revenues if the land were used for research and light industry as stipulated in existing zoning ordinances.

The land is very close to all forms of transportation not to mention Princeton University and its satellite research installations such as RCA. Quarries pay minimal taxes.

Finally, the quarry is a serious hazard to the health and safety of the public, especially in the area of air pollution, noise, and blasting. Such a situation should not be permitted to exist anywhere at all, let alone expand.

This problem is important to all the citizens of Franklin as an indication of an appalling violation of good zoning not to mention of government for the welfare of the Township as a whole rather than to benefit one organization.

I hope all the candidates will speak out forcefully on the issue.

News of Clubs and Organizations

The Woman's Club of Princeton noon, Thursday, May 8, in the Prince William Room of the Nassau Inn. The Woman's Club will hold its annual meeting and luncheon, featuring entertainment by the singer-guitarist Don Crabtree.

Mr. Crabtree has appeared in eight Broadway musicals and has performed on the Ed Sullivan Show, the Bell Telephone Hour and the Red Skelton Show. Mrs. Theodore R. Potts is in charge of reservations and will be assisted by mesadmes S. S. Dreir, A. R. Morgan, C. W. Mueller, B. R. Stewart, and E. W. Yeoman. Flower chairman is Mrs. John D. Rockwell.

Hostesses for the luncheon are: Mrs. R. S. Holmes, Mrs. Charles H. Chandler, Mrs. Lester W. Coate, Mrs. F. Leicester Cuthbert, Mrs. Forrest E. Greswold, Miss A. Myrtle Hensur, Mrs. Oliver S. Johnson, Mrs. Norman D. Kelley, Mrs. L. B. Lindquist, Mrs. Gerald Lockyer, Mrs. Donald R. MacPherson, Mrs. Mitchell D. Mathews, Mrs. Minot C. Morgan Jr., Mrs. Potts, Mrs. John D. Rockwell, Mrs. James D. Schwartz, Mrs. Carl Sonnenschein, and Mrs. William F. Voorhees Jr.

Boy Scout Troop No. 87 of Harlingen will sponsor a "Spaghetti Supper" from 5-7 p.m., Saturday, at the Harlingen Reformed Church House, Route 206. Admission for adults is $1.75, for children $1. Youngsters under five years of age are free.

Montgomery Township P.T.A. will hold an Arts and Projects Fair from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, in the All Purpose Rooms of the Orchard Road and Burnt Hill Road Schools. In addition to a display of art work produced by kindergarten through tenth graders, a "Silent Auction" will be conducted by Mrs. Mary Murray. There will also be a Bake Sale in the Burnt Hill Road School and sandwiches and drinks will be sold in the Orchard Road School.

Ex Tempo; 12:30 p.m. Thursday, at the YWCA building. This month's meeting will feature a discussion of cheese making by Andrew Steiner, owner of the Gourmet. Mr. Steiner will demonstrate various ways of serving cheeses and indicate when each type of cheese can be appropriately served. A small fee will be charged to attend the meeting and for nursery care provided by the YWCA.

Friday Club; 12:30 p.m., Friday, in the lounge of the YWCA. The senior women's group will meet for lunch and then will be taken to view an extensive collection of antique toys at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Barenholtz. Anyone in need of a ride should call the YWCA at 924-4825, before 11 a.m. Friday.

Mercer County Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union; 8 p.m., Wednesday, April 30, at the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road. The meeting is open to anyone in the area interested in the group's work.

Crossing Cooperative Nursery School has openings in its fall class for three-year-olds and four and five-year-olds who are ineligible to attend kindergarten during the 1969-70 school year. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Frank Scearce, Registrar, P.O. Box 112, Washington Crossing, Pa., or by calling 493-3894.

Montgomery Republican Club; 8:15 p.m. Tuesday at the Belle Mead Branch of the First National Bank of Somerset County. "Your Township Government Present and Future" will be the topic of a discussion led by Frank Haines, Jr., director of research for the New Jersey Taxpayers Association. Further information about the public meeting may be obtained by calling D. B. Landry at 924-2383.

Cercle Francais de Princeton; 8:30 p.m., Thursday, in the Faculty Lounge of the Engineering Quadrangle, Princeton University. Professor Roger Le Tourneau, a visiting professor in Princeton's Department of Near Eastern Studies, will talk on "Les Etats d'Afrique du Nord depuis leur independence". Refreshments will be served at the public meeting.

The Twilighters Singles Club; 9 p.m., Friday, at The Old Applegarth Inn, Hightstown. Single men and women 40 years of age or older are invited to attend a "People Meeting People Get-Together". A live band, dancing and refreshments will comprise the evening's entertainment. The cost is $1 for members and $2 for non-members. For further information write: P.O. Box 213, Roosevelt, N.J., or call 448-2488.

Trenton-Princeton Chapter of the Special Library Association; 8 p.m., Tuesday, in the Forrestal Research Center Library. At the business meeting, Maurice Smith will speak on "Demonstration and Discussion of Automated Document Systems."

Littlebrook P.T.O.; 8 p.m., Thursday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Hollister Jr, 30 Tyson Lane. Residents of the Littlebrook School area are invited to attend this meeting, the last of a series of neighborhood coffees.

Princeton League of Women Voters has sent 18 delegates to the biennial convention of the League of Women Voters of New Jersey, which began Tuesday in Atlantic City. The delegates from Princeton are Mesdames Harry Beskind, John Bowen, Stephen Goldfield, Thomas McGrath, Benson Carlin, Robert Kany, Edward Jeakins and Robert Levine. Delegates from West Windsor are Mrs. James McDowell, Mrs. Marvin Reed, and Mrs. David Singer.

Other representatives include: Mrs. Robert Danielson, Mrs. Sigmund Black, Mrs. Robert Irven, Mrs. Thomas Lies, Mrs. Jon Baumunk and Mrs. William Pauley, all from Montgomery Township; and Mrs. Alexander Klimas of Kendall Park. Fiscal policy, public school education in New Jersey, and legislative procedures are expected to be included in the state program. The highlight of the convention is a banquet speech by former North Carolina Governor Terry Sanford.

St. Paul's School PTA; 7 p.m., Wednesday, April 30, at the school. Following classroom conferences for parents and teachers from 7 to 8:15 p.m., prizes wil be awarded to winners of the school Science Fair and a mother-daughter film for sixth, seventh and eighth graders, "It's Wonderful Being a Girl," will be presented as part of the school health program.

The Vassar Club of Central New Jersey will sponsor a tea for prospective Vassar students at 4 p.m., April 30, at Lourie House, the residence of Mrs. Robert F. Goheen, 85 Stockton Street. Miss Susan Anable, 40 Wiggins Street, a Vassar student, and another representative of the college will discuss life at Vassar, answer questions and show slides of the campus. Anyone interested in attending is asked to call Mrs. Peter Carter, 924-0992.

The Migraine Headache

Migraine is a chronic condition of nervous origin. It is characterized by severe headaches accompanied by vomiting and disorders of vision.

The attack usually begins with a feeling of depression, heaviness over the eyes, and fatigue.

The headache most frequently begins at the base of the skull and radiates forward to the forehead. Though the pain is usually on one side of the head, it may involve the entire cranium.

An attack may last for hours or even days, in every person it begins in the same manner each time. In women the attacks are frequently associated with menstruation.

Once the severe throbbing headache has begun it is aggravated by loud noises, jarring or stooping over. The eyes are sensitive to light and there may be zig zag flashes of light before the patient's eyes. Nausea is a common symptom and is increased when the patient sits up or stands. Bile is present when vomiting occurs.

Chiropractic success in the handling of migraine arises from the three spinal factors which are considered to be of vital importance in all migraine attacks. First, nerve pressure of the base of the skull. Secondly, mid-dorsal nerve pressure may impair the tone of the pyloric valve and diminish the efficiency of the stomach. Third lower back nerve pressures may disturb function of the pelvic organs. Hence, pelvic congestion is frequently present during the attack of migraine, and this may disturb the function of the entire eliminatory tract.

Chiropractic approaches migraine as originating in the spine. The doctor frees the nerve pathways of pressure from misaligned vertebrae and restores the of vital nerve energy. The organs soon function normally and migraine attacks are relieved.

TIGERS IN TIGHT RACES

In Lacrosse and Baseball. Three weeks into the soggy spring of 1969, Princeton's lacrosse and baseball teams were in commanding positions in their respective leagues. With the schedules more condensed than ever before, and the weather playing a major part in determining field conditions in lacrosse and cancellations in baseball, the eventual outcome in both races figured to remain largely in doubt until the final weekend.

Of the two Tiger entries, the lacrosse team appears the more likely to earn a title. It has won over Navy for the first time in a decade, and last week got away to a racing start against Brown despite the quagmire conditions that prevailed on Finney Field.

The ball team stands 2-0 after finishing 2-7 last spring, is hitting with good consistency and has gotten better than average pitching from a staff on which junior Bo Hunter is now the ace. The right-hander from Hawaii trimmed Navy at Annapolis Saturday, 3-2, and has now allowed just two earned runs in 26 innings for a highly fancy average of .81 per game.

Dartmouth will provide the opposition in both sports this weekend. The Indians' last-place lacrosse team will play Princeton at Finney Field Saturday at 2, while the Green's hard-hitting ball team entertains the Tiger nine at Hanover.

Fast Start Tops Brown. A Brown lacrosse team good enough to have beaten Penn; which defeated Harvard before the Crimson upset defending champion Cornell, was no match for Princeton Saturday. Despite the morning squalls which had left the field a mammoth mudpie, the Tigers took charge early and rarely had problems thereafter.

Five goals in the first eight minutes settled the outcome quickly. It was 7-3 at the half and after narrowing the margin slightly in the third period, when they scored twice to the one they allowed the home team, the Bruins were through for the day.

Sophomore Pete Johnson, a member of the Princeton attack, got the hat trick to pace the winners' offense. Jim Karanik and hockey goalie Middy Tilghman added a pair apiece, while Bill Pettit, a Princeton resident, and footballers Pete Lips and Rob Bordley contributed the others. The Tigers will face Penn at Philadelphia next Wednesday and then conclude their home season the following Saturday against Harvard.

Other Sports
On Page 15

Meantime, action elsewhere in the league could hardly have worked out better from a Princeton point of view. Yale has won its first two games against Penn and Dartmouth but must still play the more difficult portion of its schedule.

Harvard lost its opener to the Quakers but then produced a shocker with a 14-4 upset of defending champion Cornell at Ithaca. The defeat was only the third for the Red in the last three seasons.

At West Point last Wednesday, again in the mud and rain, Princeton stayed with powerful Army through the first half, trailing only 8-7 at the intermission, but then ran completely out of gas. It was a 20-9 triumph for the cadets.

Pete Johnson again was a major factor in the Tigers' attack, scoring four times. The victors jumped out to a 5-0 lead, and it was greatly to Princeton's credit that it got the next four. In the long run, however, Army had the greater depth and stamina, particularly since the Tigers had played a rugged contest against Navy just four days earlier.

Hunter in Charge. All three hits he yielded were for extra bases (two doubles and a triple) but Bo Hunter struck out eight to keep control of the ball game Saturday at Annapolis. The middies had the tying run on second with two out in the last of the ninth when Hunter nailed down the decision by claiming his final strikeout victim.

Coach Eddie Donovan's charges got an unearned run in the first on a pair of Navy misplays which allowed lead-off hitter Paul Colburn to score. There were no more runs until the top of the seventh; Hunter, meanwhile, was retiring the first 17 batters to face him.

Third baseman Ray Huard walked in the seventh and sophomore first baseman Bob Schiffner singled. Jim Adams, a last-minute replacement in left field for Don Lichty, then tripled to give the Orange and Black a 3-0 lead. Navy pushed across single runs in the seventh and ninth but that was not quite enough.

The Tigers were scheduled to go to Villanova (to which they lost, 10-0, last year) on Wednesday and will entertain St. John's Thursday at 4 on Clarke Field. Bob Wolff, who beat the District II defending champions, 2-1, in 12 innings a year ago, will try to make it two straight over the strong Brooklyn nine.

successfully on Carnegie Lake. Not only did they win the varsity race but they took all four events on the program to sweep the river.

For the second of three April Saturday regattas here, unseasonably cool temperatures and cloudy skies marred the weather picture and kept the crowd down. The Penn crew, which will learn later this season whether it is better than Harvard and therefore the best in the nation, was timed in a slow 6:24 for 2,000 meters because of the chill headwind into which the shells rowed. However, so strong is the Quaker "navy" that the Red and Blue jayvees actually covered the course in two seconds less than the boat which had earned varsity status in the week-long competition staged by Coach Joe Burk.

Princeton, victor by convincing margins in its first two races, took a deck length lead at the outset but could not hang on. A quarter of the way down the lake, Penn wes even, and at the 1,000-meter mark, the Red and Blue had moved out to e full length.

The Tigers showed to their greatest advantage when they not only failed to yield more but actually managed to narrow the gap slightly during the final 500 meters. At the finish, Penn had barely more than half a length. Columbia was a distant third, five lengths behind.

Not surprisingly, the ability of the Quaker jayvee shell made the margin in that race far greater: it won by better than four lengths over the Tigers. Penn's margin in the freshman race was nearly three lengths, while the Red and Blue also won the second freshman race (fours with cox) easily. Columbia was invariably third.

This weekend will bring no respite for Coach Pete Sparhawk's oarsmen. They'll go against Harvard ond M.I.T. on the Charles River in search of the Compton Cup. Harvard hasn't lost an intercollegiate race in six years.

PHS NINE VICTOR

Harlog Horls Shutout. Princeton High School will play one of its more ancient baseball rivals here Thursday afternoon when Trenton High comes in for a 3:45 contest.

Then the Little Tigers will play back-to-back games with highly-rated Ewing, facing Ewing here at 3:45 on Monday and away on Tuesday. The first game is a postponement of a contest originally scheduled last week but was rained out.

Monday, PHS won its first in two starts when Jeff Haring shut out visiting Lawrenceville (1-3) 5-0. Jeff struck out nine and did not walk a man until the last inning when he issued two free passes. His teammates backed him up with errorless play.

Hitting was not much in evidence by either club. PHS scored a pair in the fifth when Hal Logan was hit by a pitched ball, and stole second and third. Dave Drake walked and stole second. Both came home when shortstop Greg Van Dam first bobbled Tom Graham's grounder and then threw wildly to first for a double error.

In the fifth, the Little Tigers added two insurance runs. Rick Boykin led off with a walk and Hal Logan was safe on an error. After Dave Drake got an infield hit to load them up, Graham fanned and Boykin was out at the plate on a fielder's choice.

However, Steve Bamberra worked Rick Knight for a walk on a 3-2 pitch, and catch-

THE WEATHER WAS WET AND THE TRACK WAS MUDDY but the Tigers left the gate at full gallop in Saturday's lacrosse game with Brown. Five goals before the first period was much more than half over gave them control of the action and an eventual 10-5 triumph. Here, Jon Taylor at left has just fired a shot (arrow shows ball) at beleaguered Bruin goalie. (TOWN TOPICS Photo by Bill Whitman).

$1799*

What's the catch?
There isn't any.
$1,799* is the suggested retail price at the port of entry for the VW sedan.
The price includes the Federal excise tax and import duty.
It also includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers, outside rearview mirror, padded dash, front seat headrests, and seat belts front and back.
Not to mention the new electric rear-window defogger and the new ignition/steering lock.
It's the price of the real thing, not a stripped-down economy model.
What else do you have to pay?
Transportation from the port of entry. Dealer delivery charge, local sales tax.
One optional extra that makes a lot of sense, automatic stick shift. (It eliminates the clutch pedal.)
Another is leatherette upholstery.
And that's it.

APPEL BY A STEP IN 220: Princeton High School sprinter Warren Appel has a step on Ewing's Virgil Angelini to win the 220 in 24.2. Third is Greg Johnson of PHS. The Little Tigers fost Friday's dual meet however by a two to one margin. (Staff Photo) er Chuck Arnold was hit in the head hy a pitch to force in two runs.

PHS collected only three hits off Knight and reliefer Tony Layton, who together fanned 11 Little Tigers. Graham's single in the first was wasted.

Jeff Bannon got the third safety, a leadoff double in the sixth. He came home an out later on John Pesce's high fly.

Lawrenceville loaded the bases with no outs in the second, but Haring got the next two on grounders and struck out the next batter. It was a bad day all-around for Van Dam. Haring struck him out for the game's final out with the bases loaded, and earlier after Van Dam had gotten one of Lawrenceville's three hits in the fifth, Haring picked him off first base to end that inning.

PENN RELAYS NEXT

Franklin Tuesday for PHS. Princeton High School track coach Larry Ivan will take a team to Philadelphia this weekend to compete in the annual Penn Relays.

Making the Saturday trip will be Julian Solotorovsky, Warren Appel, Bob Best and Greg Johnson, "I just got the schedule today," said Ivan Monday, "and I can tell you we're in a good field. Whew! It will be a worthwhile experience," he added. On Tuesday, the Little Tigers will resume dual meet activity when they travel to Franklin for meet number four.

First Set Back. Thursday, visiting Ewing won its 25th consecutive dual meet victory when it defeated PHS, 85½ to 40½. Ewing captured a first place in every field event and swept the shot, pole vault, broad jump and mile to pile up points. Along the way, the Blue Devils set two new records—for Ewing—in the javelin and shot.

Tom Pratt hurled the spear 194-4 to best Princeton's Lawrence Parker (160-8), while teammate Carl Foreman set a new school mark of 51-9½ in the shot.

The Little Tigers (1-1) had their moments, however, particularly in the dashes and shorter races, taking an early lead.

Captain Solotorvsky won the 100-yard dash in 10.5. He also came back to win the 440 in what was one of the meet's more exciting races.

Boxed in at the second turn, Julian had to swing out to the fourth lane to escape the melee. In the meantime, Ewing's George Richards had taken what looked like an insurmountable lead. However, "Solo" narrowed the gap and caught Richards by a step at the wire. At the finish, Solotorvsky collapsed heavily on the track. His time: 51.9.

"He ran the equivalent of an even 50.0 race," said Ivan later.

After finishing third in the 100, Appel won the 220 by a stride in 24.2. Paul Mazzarella and Paul Riddell finished first and second in the high hurdles with times of 16.4 and 16.5.

The low hurdles was highlighted by two injuries. Trouble began when the hurdles were placed wrong at the head of the straightaway. The first casualty in the four man race was Mazzarella. He was hit by an elbow and forced off the track.

Next, one of the Ewing runners hit a hurdle and crashed to the track. He sustained a badly bruished leg. Then a kicked hurdle hit the back of the ankle of Riddell, gashing it. As soon as the race ended, Riddell was taken to Princeton Hospital where eight sutures were used to close the cut. He will not be sidelined.

Earlier, Riddell had finished second to Ewing's Dave Cuyler in the high jump. Both ended at 5-8 but Cuyler was awarded first place because he had started at a higher height. A second by Jeff White in the discuss and Parker's second in the javelin were virtually all PHS could point to in the field events.

PHS STICKMEN WIN BIG

Montclair Here Saturday. Although it is still in the early part of its schedule, Princeton High School's meeting with Montclair here Saturday in lacrosse will be the Little Tigers' next to last home appearance this season. The contest will be played at Community Park, starting at 2.

Tuesday, PHS (1-2) will be at Peddie. This Wednesday afternoon it was scheduled to play at Maplewood.

Friday afternoon in the rain —all three PHS contests so far have been played in the rain — the Little Tigers came from behind to rout home team Princeton Day School, 13-3. Co-captain Pete McCrohan led the attack with four goals, while Gene Holland had three goals and four assists. Both play attack.

PDS scored first and after the Little Tigers tied it 1-1, the home team took a 3-1 lead. "We called time at that point" said PHS coach Marvin Trotman, "and from then on it was all us. This could well be a stepping stone for us," continued Trotman. "They know now they can score if they stick to the plays we've worked on."

Princeton High School clearly dominated the play in the second half, as nearly all the action took place in front of the PDS goal. For Trotman, who has taken over this year as coach in a sport that was unfamiliar to him as a high school or college athlete, it was his first victory and a highly satisfying one. "A fine ball game," he said.

Trotman cited the PHS defense which bottled up the Panthers after the opening minutes. "They played a tremendous game, especially my first defense of Chris Schmitt, Maury Peabody and Steve Morris."

Others figuring prominently in the PHS scoring were Bob Cooper and Clint Olson, who scored two goals each, and Scott Purvis, one goal and two assists. Rich Oberman excelled in front of the net for PHS.

Because of the lopsided score, Trotman commented that he had a chance to see everyone play. He liked what he saw: "We ran our plays just like we were supposed to run them."

Lawrenceville Wins. Earlier in the week, PHS held Lawrenceville to 2-2 in the early going but ended up losing its second game, 12-6. Penalties hurt the losers.

McCrohan Purvis, Cooper, Olson, Phil Matthews and Jeff Laschever scored single goals for PHS. In a jayvee game, Phil Nollner scored the only PHS goal, as the Little Tiger scrubs lost to Lawrenceville 5-1.

DIVER TO BE HONORED

Award for Former Miss Bush

Lesley Bush Hickcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don ald Bush of 244 Dodds Lane, will be honored for her Olympic diving achievements Saturday at the Stage House Inn, Scotch Plains.

She will receive an award from the Indiana University Alumni Club of New Jersey together with another New Jersey Olympian breaststroker swimmer Dave Perkowski of Westfield. Also present will be her husband, Charles Hickcox, likewise a student at Indiana. Hickcox won three gold medals at Mexico City and was recognized by Swimming World Magazine as 1968 "Swimmer of the Year".

Mrs. Hickcox won the gold medal in the platform diving event at the 1964 Tokyo Olympics and also competed at Mexico City last year. She holds five National AAU titles in platform and springboard events and captured the plat form events in both the Pan American Games and World University Games in 1967.

TOM WOOD HURLS WIN

For Bradley Nine. Two years ago, Tom Wood captained the Princeton High School basehall team, splitting his duties between the pitcher's mound and first base.

Earlier this month, Wood went the distance for the first time for Bradley University as he pitched and batted his team to a 19-6 rout of Offutt Air Force Base. Tom, a right-hand throwing sophomore, was touched for a dozen hits, one a three-run homer in the first inning to give Offut a short-lived lead. He struck out seven.

In the third, Bradley scored eight runs, three coming off a 318 foot homer by Wood, who drove in a total of seven runs for the day on three hits. Bradley, in all, raked Offutt hurlers for 19 hits.

Previously, the 6-5 Wood had been limited to three short relief stints. However, Bradley coach Leo Schrall i' expected to insert Wood into the Braves' starting rotation because of an injury to a veteran member of the mound staff.

Wood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wood of 35 Maple Street. His father is head football coach at PHS, where Tom was an outstanding athlete in football, basketball and baseball.

PDS LOSES FIRST TWO

In Lacrosse. The Princeton Day School lacrosse team found its first two opponents more than it could handle, and began its season with two losses last week. The squad was scheduled to play Peddie School Wednesday afternoon and Rutgers Prep next Wednesday, April 30.

In the first contest, the Panthers were beaten 6-3 by George School last Wednesday in a game played in a steady rain, which turned the field into a quagmire. Friday, the Blue and White moved out to a couple of early leads against the high school, but were soundly outplayed in the second half, losing 13-3.

11 MEMBERS WELCOMED

By Springdale Women. Eleven new members were welcomed last week by Springdale's Women's Golf Committee, as the group held its annual opening luncheon at the Princeton Inn.

New members include Mrs. B. C. Aldridge, Mrs. Andrew Cahill, Mrs. Gerald Crumlish, Mrs. Elon Foster, Mrs. Danforth Hall, Mrs. Baldwin Maull, Mrs. James McKinnon, Mrs. Charles Mayer, Mrs. Harold P. Moran, Mrs. Harvey Rothberg and Mrs. Fred Thompson.

Mrs. Ethel Fruland, chairman of the group, presided over the luncheon. Other 1969 officers are Mrs. Ruth Thornton, co-chairman, Mrs. R. H. Mather, tournaments, Mrs. O. J. Wenzel, handicaps, Mrs. E. D. Rogers, prizes, Mrs. A. D. Sheeran, house, Mrs. E. J. Johnson, Trenton District, Mrs. Arthur Gardner, new members, Mrs. P. R. Shays, Nine Holes and Mrs. James Whelan, publicity. Jim Holtgren, the new club professional, also spoke to the women.

HUN VS. PENNINGTON

On Diamond Friday. The Hun School baseball team, which so far this season has been plagued by rain, will next travel to area-rival Pennington School for a Friday afternoon contest. The game will start at 4.

Next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in another Penn-Jersey contest it will entertain George School. Hun was also scheduled to meet Perkiomen here this Wednesday afternoon.

In its most recent outing, Hun was trailing home team Germantown Friends, 4-3, after four innings Friday when rain forced the game to be called. The entire game will be replayed sometime in May, according to Hun coach Dave Leete.

On Thursday, in a game postponed one day because of rain, Hun dropped a 4-3 decision to Friends Central on the victors' diamond. The loss left Hun with a 1-1 league mark.

"We made some key errors and we didn't hit very well," remarked Leete. He described the field as "soupy." Hun's big blow was a run-scoring double by pinch hitter Joe Castora. Sophomore Bob Roby was charged with the loss.

N.J. 13-9 VICTIM

Of Long Island Stickmen. Scoring six goals in the first quarter and six more in the third, the Long Island Lacrosse Club went on to defeat the New Jersey Lacrosse Club at the Hun School field Sunday, 13-9.

Long Island, unbeaten in six games this season, was national champion last year, and New Jersey coach Hawley Waterman said after Sunday's game that he saw no reason why it couldn't go all the way. Jack Heim led Long Island with four goals and four assists.

Now talk long, often, and happily without paying 10¢ and 15¢ toll charges.

Here's a way to eliminate 10¢ and 15¢ toll charges on calls to New Jersey telephone numbers. It's a new service called Selective Calling, and it's available right now.*

Here's how it works for individual-line residence customers. You select the 10- or 15-cent New Jersey exchange areas served by New Jersey Bell that you call or would like to call frequently. You pay an additional small fixed monthly charge for each exchange selected. Then you can make as many calls as you wish to those exchanges at no extra cost.

The monthly rate for the first exchange you select ranges from $1.25 to $2.50. Additional exchanges cost only 25¢ to $1.50.

Wouldn't you like to talk long and often to friends or family living in these 10- or 15-cent exchange areas? And talk happily without toll charges? If so, Selective Calling makes it very easy and economical to do just that.

A similar Selective Calling plan is also available at different rates to customers with business phones.

For more information, please call your Telephone Business Office.

SELECTIVE CALLING: another new service from New Jersey Bell that can save you money.

which operates out of Princeton, Don Freeman had three goals and one assist. George Grinstein and Steve Jacobson added a pair each, Grinstein being credited in addition with two assists. Phil Allen and Frank Routunak added single tallies.

Ahout 200 onlookers watched New Jersey match the heavily-favored visitors goal for goal over the last three periods. The difference was Long Island's 6-2 margin in the opening period.

The New Jersey Club (1-2) will begin a series of five consecutive away games next, starting Sunday when it will travel to Philadelphia. Succeeding games will be at West Point, Baltimore, Scarsdale and New York before it returns home for its finale here June 1 against Glen Burnie.

THREE RACES HELD

By Carnegie Sailors. Despite disappointingly light winds Sunday, the Carnegie Sailing Club completed sets of three races in each of their classes.

Kim Foster, with Walt Gibson as crew, took a first place among the 14 foot sloops, as Billy Hilton finished second and Tom Huntington was third. John Reeder, assisted by his son Jack, led the Penguins, nosing out second-place finisher Larry Raffaelli while Don Doffy and Joel Johnson tied for third.

In the Sunfish races, Jack Romeril came in first, followed by Henry Munson and Dan Mazzarella.

SILVESTRONE FIRES 70 in PGA Round. Art Silvestrone of Pine Brook Country Club, Belle Mead, fired a two under par 70 last week at the Forsgate course to share the lead with Babe Lichardus of Shackamaxon over a field of 79 New Jersey pros in the opening tournament of the N. J. PGA.

This followed on the heels of Art's victory last week in the finals of the N.J. PGA winter league at Battleground Country Club.

SWIM PROGRAM OFFERED

By Y for Non-Swimmers. All boys in grades one through four who cannot swim can learn at the YMCA at no expense.

As part of the community effort to teach youngsters to swim, the Princeton YMCA is offering a learn-to-swim program for boys in the above grades.

Although no membership or fee is required, parents must register their children at the Y office on Thursday or Friday or between 10 and noon Saturday morning. There will be a general meeting of all parents and participants Monday at the Y from 4 to 5 for orientation and class assignments.

Outdoor Basketball At Y

The outdnor lighted basketball court in the rear of the Princeton YMCA is open for informal play each Monday and Thursday night from 7 to 10. The Y office announced that basketballs can be obtained from the YMCA pool desk by showing a membership card.

BOWLING NOTES

No. 1 Regains Lead. Benefitting from some fine bowling by Jack Petrone and Walt Coan, Princeton No. 1 has regained the lead in the Tri-County Firemen's League. It leads Mercer No. 3 and K.P.D. who are tied for second, 60-36, while Rocky Hill and Princeton No. 1½ are all even at 50 each to tie for third.

Coan rolled 235 and Petrone, 234. Teammates Buckey Cupples and Stanley Donald had 214 and 205.

The high single game in the league at the Princeton Recreation Lanes was Lawrenceville's Bob Micinski's 236. Earl Smith rolled 229 and Phil Rodefeld had a pair of 202s. Others: Walt Herrman, 219; Stan Tantum, 214; Henry Sotphin, 209. John Wills, John Donaldson, Les Luck and Ed Lemore were also above 200.

Pat Migliaccio spilled the most pins in the Nassau League, rolling a 620 series on games of 225-184-211. Charles Perpetua Jr. and Fred Goeke had 210s. Between 209 and 208 were Dick Traegler, Flavio Buono, Jerry Perpetua, Ed Duncan Sr., John Baldino and Sandy Forsyth.

First Aid still has the lead in the standings with 56 points. Following are Princetoo Aviation (51) Grover Lumber (50) Tiger Garage (47) and Ben's Body Shop and Kingston Wine & Liquor, 46 each.

There were two 600 series in the A League, and each would have been higher except for a subpar final game. Nick Scalerati of Nassau Del rolled 228-214-177 — 619; Mike Pinelli of Antlers rolled 201-226-173—600.

High single games were Doug Renfroe's 235, Bob Cifelli's 228, and Don Snyder's 226. Bill Parke had 214 and Joe Baldino and Dick Fowler fashioned 213s. Between 212 and 202 were Fred Procaccini, Jerry Perpetua, Sam Lisi, Al Hibbard, Ken Chilcote, Bill Penelli, John Fugill, Fred Lehenrt and Wes Cawley.

With 70 points, Nassau & Wright Store has a comfortable 11-point lead over Antlers. Princeton Inn is third with 55, one point ahead of Ivy Inn. Farr Hardware and Nassau Del each have 48.

In the Business Women's League, Jefferson Plumbing broke its second-place tie with Ivy Inn but failed to gain any ground on the leader, Claridge, which added six points.

Claridge now has 50 to Jefferson's 44. Ivy Inn fell into a third place tie with Thornes at 42-42, Rocky Hill Inn, Bucci Builders and University Cleaners all have 38.

Beverly Kiss of Jefferson worked the pins for a 512 series on games of 162-182-163. Rolling a pair of fine games were Eleanor Pinelli of Bucci, 181-165; and Betty Kleiber of Rocky Hill Inn, 167-178. Betty's teammate, Carole Harris had 178, too.

Others: Myrtle Smith, 176; Sue Schilling, 173; Mary Bartolino and Lil Brough, 170s; Dail Forsyth, 162-168; Marilyn Wilson, 168; Marge Drummond, 167; Jane Rauch, Louise Fogill and Dot Wheeler, 165s.

METTLER "A" GETS A

In Bowling League. Seventh-place Mettler "A" in the Princeton Women's Bowling League earned an 'A' for its bowling last week. It rolled both the high team game and series of 888 and 2455.

High for Mettler was Priscilla Easley with a 200 game and Gerry Poinsett 172. Edda Collins of Irene's Day Nursery fashioned the high single game of 201.

Others: Charlane Allen, Homes of Merritt, 188; Evelyn Salley, Rocky & Sons, 187; Betty Cooper, Rosso's Cafe, 182-176; Catherine McDonald, Swift's Colonial Diner, 182; Marilyn Murphy, Cranbury Bank, 181; and Kitty Thomas, Irene's, 176.

Rosso's has a 15-point, 79-64, lead over Cranbury Bank in the standings, followed by Turney Motors (60), Swift's (58) and Rocky & Sons (56).

NOT FOR EVERYONE

is this handsome brick ranch — it's definitely for a small family. But if you desire a gracious two-bedroom house, each with its own bath, you must see it. The proportions are elegant, and there's an entrance hall, living room, dining room, and a recreation room with bar. The small glassed sunporch overlooks a charming garden, and there's a full tiled basement with lavatory and outside entrance. $89,500

AMERICAN 18th CENTURY

All brick house with fine details of the period. Handsome Colonial door and window facings, carved mantels, high ceilings, most of the old floors still exist, and there's a built-in china closet in the dining room and bookcases in the library. This is a ten-room house, overlooking a lake, on a lovely lot with mature trees. If you love a real home, don't miss this. $19,500

It does things other small cars shouldn't do.

Cornering at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes. Is that all SAAB has? Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features. As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE. SAAB You can drive it like a big car.

HOUSE HUNTING? . . .

WONDERFUL . . . what a way to live — your own big, cool swimming pool, on your own two acres in the country, with fine trees and shrubs, and lawn spreading in all directions! The house is charming — foyer, large living room, dining area, kitchen with many built-ins, study, and 3 bedrooms, 2 baths. Not such a large house, to be sure, but the whole property is designed to be a place where you, and your friends, can enjoy life. (*) $45,000

4 BEDROOMS . . . on a large lot in a group of fine homes only a few miles outside Princeton, this almost new Colonial was made two feet larger than its neighbors . . . with very worthwhile results! Slate-floored foyer, powder room, big living room with fireplace, separate dining room, Beautiful kitchen with extra-large wall oven and spacious breakfast area, large laundry, and family room off the kitchen with huge cupboards for toys, etc. Upstairs: 4 bedrooms, 2 baths and a vast walk-in closet. Wall-to-wall carpeting in living room, dining room, on stairs and hall (*) $46,000

PERFECT . . . rarely do we get an opportunity to say such nice things about a house. But here is one that drives us to superlatives. The property consists of almost 2½ acres of high land tastefully landscaped and with lots of trees, and screened from Carter Road by a high wild hedge. The house has a spacious foyer, large living room with fireplace, a dining room with a very pleasant view and a kitchen that is a housewife's dream, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, plenty of large closets. There is a large laundry and sewing area, plus an attached garage which could very well be transformed into a family room, because there is another two-car garage and shop, with a carport, behind the house. Wall-to-wall carpeting. Refrigerator, washer and dryer included. (*) $47,500

BIG FAMILY? . . . here is a large 5-bedroom house on a spacious lot in a fine neighborhood with plenty of playmates for your children. Foyer, large living room, dining room, great kitchen, and powder room on first floor. Paneled family room with fireplace and another powder room. Big game room in the basement. Upstairs: 5 bedooms, 2 baths, big closets. Now is the time to come out to Dodd's Lane and get a good look at this fine property. The lawns gleam like emeralds, star magnolias are in bloom and the buds are opening on the dogwoods. This is Spring in Princeton and you'll love the look of this big white house against such a background. (*) $62,500

TRULY RURAL . . . not far from the Delaware River, hidden in a cluster of great old shade trees right in the middle of a large working farm, this 200-year-old fieldstone farm house is already restored and modernized, and ready to move into. 4.9 acres of land, with fruit trees, too! The house has a spacious foyer, with a charming powder room to the left. To the right, a large living room with fireplace. The paneled library, too, has a fireplace. There is a very big dining room, and a large modern kitcren with ample breakfast space and a huge fireplace with a built-in grill where you can actually broil steaks. Second floor: 4-bedrooms. 2 baths. Third floor: 2 bedrooms, 1 bath. 3-car garage. Outdoors: nice shrubbery and a big swimming pool (*) $76,500

SPACIOUS & ELEGANT . . . on a country road, but only ten minutes from Princeton, this fine home was designed by a noted architect to be his own residence. All on one floor, with central air-conditioning, the wonderful floor plan makes this a great house for a large family (5 bedrooms, 3 baths, den & playroom), or an ideal retirement home (3 bedrooms, 2 baths, study & sun room . . . plus living room, bedroom and bath over garage for income or visiting children), or an ingenious house for a young family (3 bedrooms, 2 baths, den & family room) plus a mother-in-law apartment over the garage. The property is almost 1½ acres in area, has a heated Sylvan swimming pool, a special wing for lawnmowers and garden tools, and wall-to-wall carpeting almost everywhere — including kitchen and bathrooms. (*) $85,000

EDGERSTOUNE . . . once this was an arboretum on a great man's beautiful estate. The huge trees on one acre now give shade to a magnificent home built of enduring limestone. Designed by a famous architect for his own dwelling, the house has foyer with adjacent coat closet and powder room, living room with fireplace, spacious dining room, butler's pantry, a bright modern kitchen, with maid's room and bath upstairs. Second floor: master bedroom and bath, 2 more large bedrooms and bath. Third floor: sitting room, 2 bedrooms and bath. A stone cloister leads to the guest wing, consisting of a large living room, book nook, bedroom and bath. But what makes this great home so unusual, and so appealing, is the stone-walled court yard and the vast terrace. Everything has been planned, by an expert, to make this the perfect place for good living — indoors and outdoors. (*) $147,500

STUART HILL . . . Fabulous 2-acre building sites in the most desirable part of Princeton. This neighborhood appeals to people who dream of living in castles among lofty trees. All utilities installed.

(*) Many more fine homes in Princeton & vicinity in a wide price range. Ample parking space for our clients.
